Auto Demolished in Bus-Car Collision

Loser in a collision with an Edmonton Transit System gasoline bus south of the Low Level bridge yesterday was this sedan car being examined by police traffic officers. Two of four occupants of the car were treated in hospital for injuries while a woman bus passenger had an injured ankle. Orson T. Olson, of 9406 109A avenue, driver of the car, escaped with a shaking up as did the fourth passenger in the auto. Accident occured at intersection of Scona Road and 98 avenue. —Photo by Bland.

Missing Plane Found; Two Believed Alive

Tracks Lead Away From B.C. Wreck

PRINCETON, B.C., May 5.—(BUP)—Royal Canadian Airforce and American planes today searched for two persons believed to have survived a plane crash five days ago in remote, snow-covered country 31 miles southwest of Princeton, B.C.

Wreckage of the light private plane was sighted by an RCAF Canso pilot today.

Tracks in the snow leading from the wreckage indicated Pilot Bill Grant, 28, and Student Nurse Sheila Cure, 28, of Cardston, Alberta, had survived when their plane crashed in the rugged timber country Monday night.

"WALK-AWAY JOB"

The RCAF search pilot who first sighted the wreckage radioed the plane was down three miles north of Lone Mountain, about 200 miles southeast of Vancouver.

"It looks like a walk-away job," the message said, indicating the plane was not badly wrecked.

Four RCAF paratroopers took off immediately for the crash scene.

A U.S. coastguard helicopter from Port Angeles, Washington, was en route to the area at the request of the RCAF.

JUST OVER BORDER

The wreckage is two miles across the border, Washington.

RCAF and American pilots have conducted an intensive search for the plane since Tuesday morning. U. S. air force planes from McChord, Washington, also participated in the search.

The plane had been missing on a flight from Penticton to Vancouver.

An RCAF rescue truck from Vancouver was co-ordinating the ground-air search.

City Power Plant May Use Gas

Immediate Start On One Boiler Urged on Council

Natural gas will supplement coal as fuel in Edmonton power plant if council approves a recommendation of City Commissioners at a special meeting today.

Immediate conversion of No. 1 boiler to gas, with conversion of a second boiler as soon as possible will be asked.

FAVORED BY C OF C

Edmonton Chamber of Commerce yesterday approved changing-over of one boiler from coal to gas in a resolution passed at the weekly Chamber council meeting but added a rider urging the city continue to utilize slack coal produced in this district.

The Chamber council notes that partial and gradual changeover to gas at the power plant will result in immediate and future savings to tax payers while continuing to consume total production of coal from Edmonton mines.

City Commissioners have also recommended delay in projected purchase of ash-removing equipment at the power plant until July 1949 as a result of gas conversion.

ASH REMOVAL

If it is found that ashes cannot be removed with present equipment purchasing of new equipment for only two stacks should be made, the Commissioners recommend.

Power Superintendent W. I. McFarland has also warned against complete conversion to gas because of possible adverse effect on coal and trucking industries.

He recommends that new boilers purchased in future be gas burners.

The superintendent also recommends that coal purchases not all be made from one company or group.

ESTIMATED SAVINGS

Complete conversion to gas fuel would save the city $1,500,000 over a five-year period with the proposed partial conversion resulting in an estimated saving of $344,000, Mr. McFarland estimated in a previous report to council.

TWIN RESULTS IN BULLETIN TOMORROW

Tomorrow is going to be a big day for a lot of people.

For tomorrow is the day the Bulletin will announce the winners in its big Match the Twins Contest.

Our contest editors have finished their judging, a bonded firm of city auditors have checked all results, and the big prize list is being readied today.

Winners of the $1,000 first prize, the valuable merchandise and household furnishings will all be announced in all editions of the new Bulletin tomorrow.

Fire Razes Hollywood Race Plant

INGLEWOOD, Calif., May 6.—(UP)—A multi-million dollar fire destroyed the grand stand, club house and turf club of the Hollywood Park race track early today.

Fifty thousand persons jammed traffic for several miles to watch the shooting flames.

The park had just been remodelled for the opening of the summer meeting on May 17.

Capt. Jim Matthews of United Air Lines, who was piloting a passenger liner over the grounds for a landing at Los Angeles Municipal Airport said:

"It looked like a blazing volcano under us. It started in one section and swept through the grand stand like a torch."

Despite the efforts of the Inglewood and Los Angeles fire department, the racing establishment was reduced to a skeleton of blackened steel girders within a half hour. The girders crashed in a shower of sparks.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

Lacombe Man Crash Victim

An 81-year-old Lacombe man was killed last night when his car overturned on the highway 10 miles outside the town.

Loose gravel is said to be responsible for the death of Dan Leiske, retired Lacombe resident, who was driving toward Lacombe with his 65-year-old wife, when their car was overturned.

Mrs. Leiske was at the wheel and escaped uninjured. Her husband is believed to have been killed instantly.

Lacombe doctors believe Leiske died of a broken neck.

No inquest will be held.

Canada Riot Act in Force At Asbestos

By ALAN RANDAL

ASBESTOS, Que., May 6.—(CP)—The idle asbestos mining centre today came under the full provisions of the Canadian Riot Act.

Quiet since some 200 Quebec provincial police reinforcements arrived at 2 a.m., the town fell under the Riot Act provisions as miners and their families attended early mass.

STEPS OF CHURCH

From the steps of the Ste. Aime's Roman Catholic Church, Hertel O'Bready, justice of the peace and clerk of the court for St. Francis, read the Riot Act.

In this town—turbulent and violence-ridden yesterday—where it is difficult to find a crowd that is not composed of provincial police, only a handful of people heard the reading of the act.

Mr. O'Brady said: "Disperse and go home. Go to your regular occupations. Those who don't are liable to life imprisonment."

POLICE HEAD ATTACKED

Inspector-General Norbert Labbe, who lead provincial police reinforcements into the district, was attacked and injured today while assisting constables in making arrests.

He was taken to hospital and treated for a head injury but was able to return to his work later.

Labbe was attacked while five strikers were being taken into custody in connection with yesterday's violent outbreaks. In all about 100 arrests were made.

Among those who heard the Riot Act read in the chill early morning were a group of the 50-odd strikers arrested in connection with yesterday's clashes with provincial police. These men had taken refuge in the basement of the church. There the flying squads of provincial police overtook them and confiscated part of their arsenal in the form of home-made blackjacks, clubs, crowbars and stones.

CHURCHGOERS HEAR

As fast as these men were taken into custody they were brought in the church lines and, there with a handful of early churchgoers, they made the crowd which heard the reading of the Riot Act.

The arrested men were put into

Spectacular Collision Hospitalizes Two Men

Spectacular bus-car collision at the south end of the Low Level bridge yesterday resulted in varying degrees of injury to five persons.

Taken to hospital with a fractured pelvis was Mark Zabel, 19, of Victoria, B.C. Tony Kordich, 9661 85 avenue, suffered facial lacerations.

Mrs. T. Griffith, 10705 72 avenue, a bus passenger, suffered an injured ankle, but was not taken to hospital.

Kordich was discharged from the Royal Alexandra Hospital after having facial injuries treated. Zabel was detained for X-ray examination of his injury.

Both men were passengers in a car driven north along Scona Road by Orren T. Olson of 9406 109A avenue. Olson and a fourth passenger in the sedan, Charles Bryant, 10566 79 avenue, escaped with only minor cuts and bruises.

Olson told city police traffic officers he thought the gasoline bus, bound for Bonnie Doon, was a trolley bus headed up Scona road for the downtown South Side section.

He swung to the east side of Scona road to allow the bus to pass on his left.

But the bus, driven by Transit Operator Jack Shuttleworth, of 11230 89 street, swung to the left to head east on 98 Avenue, the route toward Bonnie Doon.

SWERVED SHARPLY

Olson said he swerved sharply to the left in an attempt to avoid the bus but the right front of his auto struck the transit vehicle just behind the exit door. The automobile was completely demolished on one side.

The bus did not suffer extensive damage. Shuttleworth told police he swung as far as possible to the left but was unable to avoid the collision.

He said his passengers were "tossed about" by the impact but only Mrs. Griffith complained of being hurt.

Crash occurred at approximately 3:10 p.m. and the bus was not crowded, having only 14 passengers.

A traffic jam developed as police, under Const. C. W. McNicoll, completed measurements and a tow truck was obtained to pull away the wrecked automobile.

TORONTO STUDENTS GET SEX EDUCATION

TORONTO, May 6.—(CP)—After weeks of discussion on the possibility of giving sex education in public schools, Toronto Board of Education last night decided to provide a course called "Family Life Education" for grades 7 and 8, starting next week.

Films entitled "You and Your Family" and "You and Your Friends" will be shown as part of the course.

Forest, Grass Fires Grow Across Alta.

Two new fires and two blazes which united and ran out of control kept weary fire fighting crews at work today as Alberta's forest and grass fire total this spring rose well above 50.

One new fire broke out in the Grande Prairie area, north of Sturgeon Lake, and is burning in an old timber berth.

PHONES THREATENED

Valuable timber stands are not threatened, but the blaze is moving towards a telephone repeater station. If the station is destroyed telephone service in the area will be disrupted.

One bulldozer and a crew of 20 fire-fighters are battling the blaze.

At Rocky Mountain House a settler's flash fire was put under control within a few hours yesterday afternoon by a crew of 21 men. The area is being patrolled today.

OUT OF CONTROL

Two blazes in the Slave Lake area, already threatening timber stands, burned together yesterday and are now raging out of control. Forestry officials put a 40-man crew with two bulldozers to work on the blazes but the fires are still out of control.

Yellowhead Pass Highway Unlikely Says Sask. Official

MOOSE JAW, Sask., May 6.—When the Trans-Canada Highway is built it will in all likelihood follow the southern route, highways minister J. T. Douglas of Saskatchewan yesterday told the annual meeting of the local branch of the Saskatchewan Motor Club.

Mr. Douglas said that while Alberta centres had held out for the northern route through the Yellowhead pass "the cards are now stacked against it."

South Pioneer Dies

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., May 6.—(CP)—A resident of the west for more than 70 years, Mrs. Isabelle Aird, widow of the late James Aird, former city advisory commissioner, died in hospital yesterday. She was 82 years of age.

East Hot, West Chilled In Nutty U.S. Weather

CHICAGO, May 6.—(AP)—A heat wave blistered most of the eastern half of the United States today as areas in Wyoming and Colorado shivered in wintery weather.

Snow fell over parts of southern Wyoming and eastern Colorado. Temperatures dropped in some sections of the snow belt to below freezing.

Snow drifted along United States highway 30 for 60 miles east of Rock Springs, Wyo., to Wamsutter, stalling nearly 200 cars and trucks last night. Crews brought out snow plows to clear the drifted roads.

Colorado Springs reported a wet snow and the mercury at 33.

But the mercury shot to record marks for the year and for the date in many U.S. cities yesterday.

Chicago and Louisville had top marks, 94, which was the reading at Phoenix, Ariz.

The 91 at Providence, R.I. was a record for May 5, as was the 89 at Cleveland and the 88 at Lansing, Mich.

Many cities reported marks of 90 degrees, including New York, Pittsburgh, Albany, N.Y., St. Louis, and Cincinnati.

Nobel Author Dies at Nice

NICE, France, May 6.—(CP)—Count Maurice Maeterlinck, 88, world-famed playwright sometimes known as "The Belgian Shakespeare," died in his villa here today.

He was a Nobel prize winner for literature.

His death followed a heart attack which lasted for three hours. His wife, a former secretary, was at his bedside when he died.

Count Maeterlinck recovered from a fractured ankle two months ago and had been in good health recently. He spent yesterday afternoon gardening.

Clear and Dry Is Forecast

Warm, clear and dry weather is still forecast for Edmonton today and tomorrow with light winds turning northwest at 20 mph this afternoon.

High forecast for today is 70, rising from yesterday's max. of 65. Overnight low at 5 a.m. today was 37, five degrees lower than low for the same day last year.

Low tonight will be 33.

Record breaking temperatures were recorded in Toronto and Halifax and other eastern points yesterday, with Toronto mercury hitting 89.

Cross-country temperatures yesterday were:

BANFF, Alta., May 6.—(CP)—Mrs. Susanah (Susan) Baptie, of Exshaw, pioneer Southern Alberta resident, died Thursday in Canmore hospital.

THREE MONTHS

Knox Trouble Is Doubled And Again

VANCOUVER, May 6.—(CP)—Three months of trouble have been capped as far as 28-year-old Alexander Knox and his family is concerned.

The sorry tale began when Knox lost his right arm and leg in an accident.

Then his mother-in-law and three-year-old daughter barely survived an accidental gassing.

The latest was the loss Yesterday by robbery of $106 saved for hospital expenses when Mrs. Knox has a baby in July.

Mrs. Knox awakened in time to see the thief escaping through her window.

"I think if he realizes what he has done he might return the money," she said.

5-Year-Old Girl Killed

STONY PLAIN, May 6.—Mildred, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaul, of Stony Plain, died as a result of injuries received when she was crushed beneath the front wheel of a tractor early yesterday evening.

The little girl had been playing on the tractor while the father was crushing grain.

After completing the work, the father moved the tractor ahead in order to take the belt off the crusher and one of the wheels passed over the girl.

She died while being rushed to hospital in Edmonton.

Assassination Fails

CAIRO, Egypt, May 6.—(AP)—Hamid Gouda, 65, president of the Majlis Council of Deputies, escaped with his life last night when three hand grenades were hurled into his car.

5,500 Seek Phones Here, Little Relief in Sight Yet

Booming Edmonton's telephone system is just holding its own against the constant demand for phones with 5,500 applicants now on the waiting list—the same number as 12 months ago.

The department knocked 500 off the waiting list total during recent months, but will not be able to completely meet demands until early in 1950.

Total of 2,420 central office equipment lines was installed during 1948, and 4,000 additional lines will be installed this year.

Work on installation of these lines is progressive, and telephone service is being made available piecemeal as the lines are installed.

MORE OR ORDER

In addition to the 4,000 lines now being installed 7,000 lines of central office equipment are on order or are being promised for late this year or early in 1950.

It is estimated that 5,880 of the 7,000 lines will be installed in 1949, Robert Christie, superintendent of the system, said.

Addition to the south side exchange has been completed, as finishing touches are being given to the addition to the exchange at 99 street and 118 avenue.

Construction of an addition to the west end exchange is scheduled for this year.

There is no discrimination by the city telephone system in the allocation of telephones, Mr. Christie stated.

There is a system of priority allocation which is rigidly observed, Robert Christie, superintendent of the telephone system, stated.

Priority is given to business, commercial and industrial firms requiring telephones, and also there is a priority for new residents with high essential rating in connection with business organizations.

On all other cases the telephone service is made available in the order of date of application where and when facilities are available.

Mr. Christie said instances of apparent discrimination may appear simply because more lines become available in some exchange districts than in others.

Eggs May End Crane Riddle

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., May 6.—(AP)—Whether the world population of whooping cranes will be boosted from the present 33 to 35 may depend on whether two eggs found by C. A. (Bud) Keefer are fertile.

Keefer, manager of the 47,500-acre Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge near here, said today he isn't sure they are fertile—and he won't know for a long time.

The near-extinct Whooper, North America's biggest bird, usually nests in some mysterious spot in Western Canada. The two eggs Keefer found Wednesday belong to two captive cranes that did not accompany the remaining ones which flew north in mid-April from the winter refuge here.

RIOT ACT ALLOWS LIFE IMPRISONMENT

ASBESTOS, May 6.—(CP)—This is the brief passage from the Criminal Code read by Hertel O'Bradey, justice of the peace, from the steps of the Roman Catholic Church here today. It is known as the Riot Act:

"Our Sovereign Lord the King enjoins and commands to all who are here present to disperse immediately and return peacefully to their homes, or legitimate occupations, under threat of being found guilty of an infraction that may be punished by life imprisonment. God Save the King."

2 GIRLS, 2 BOYS IN INCUBATOR

'This Is Wonderful' Says Mother of Quads

By LEO TURNER

NEW YORK, May 6.—(UP)—More assistants were added by the hour today to help care for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collins' two-day-old quadruplets.

Lebanon hospital hired three special nurses to watch the babies around the clock and an extra receptionist to help with the crowd clamoring to see the children.

Their father, a $13,500-a-week clerk for a Wall Street brokerage firm, hired an attorney to take care of the flood of offers for the quadruplets, which ranged from a furnished home to a television contract.

The quads, two boys and two girls, took it easy in their glass incubator.

They took their first food last night, two ounces each of equal portions of sugar, protein, evaporated milk and water, then went back to sleep. The nurses awakened them every three hours for another feeding.

The quads, Andrew Raymond, Barbara Ellen, Edward Charles and Linda Carol, and their 2½-year-old brother, Stephen, were the only ones who were taking things calmly.

Stephen, asked if he thought four brothers and sisters were a good idea, said "yes," and took a piece of candy from reporters.

The hospital announced that it would provide free all services above those paid for by the Parents' Hospitalization Insurance.

Mrs. Collins, 27, was taken in a wheel chair to look at the quads, who were in a special nursery away from the noise and confusions of the hundreds of promoters and curious wanting to see the babies. She looked at them and said:

"This is wonderful."

The 29-year-old, six-foot-four-inch father slipped into a nearby room and took a nap.

Oil Rights Suit Is Complicated

Imperial Ordered to Reveal Particulars About Case

CALGARY, May 6.—(CP)—Imperial Oil Company Ltd., yesterday was ordered in a Supreme Court judgment to furnish particulars within the next 10 days regarding a complicated lawsuit over oil rights to 240 acres of land in the Leduc oil field.

In a judgment handed down in Supreme Court yesterday, Mr. Justice S. J. Shepherd ordered the company to show what grounds they have for alleging that an agreement between a farmer and his two sons is "illegal, void and to no effect."

NO WELLS DRILLED

In June last year, Imperial Oil filed a statement of claim against Fred Manchak and his sons, Allan and Walter, to maintain a caveat it had filed against the land to protect its alleged leases. No wells have been drilled on the land.

A statement of defence was then filed by Fred Manchak in Calgary alleging that the Imperial Oil leases are invalid, and counterclaimed for $1,000,000 while his two sons filed a separate defence in Edmonton.

Fred Manchak said that he owned two quarter-sections of land since 1941. In 1946 he transferred 240 acres to his sons under a contract in which the sons agreed not to sell or dispose of the land during the father's lifetime.

CLAIMS PACT BROKEN

They also agreed that the father file against the title to the 240 acres a caveat to which was attached a copy of the contract with his sons. This was done. The sons were later alleged to have leased the oil rights on the 240 acres to the Imperial Oil and the company then placed a caveat against the title of the land to protect its alleged leases.

Fred Manchak then claimed that his sons had broken the agreement by signing the oil leases and asked that the land be returned to him free of the Imperial Oil caveat.

Asbestos Put Under Riot Act

police vans and rushed to the Sherbrooke jail 40 miles away.

Meantime police prepared to escort into the Johns-Manmville Company plant a number of workmen who began congregating in the square at Danville four miles away.

President George Foster of the Johns-Manmville Company said "we can expect a lot of men to go back to work today."

The end of 20 hours crammed with violence, tension and uncertainty came to a peaceful end early today at the strike-bound town.

50-CAR MOTORCADE

At 2:35 a.m. a 50-car motorcade with nearly 200 heavily-armed provincial police reinforcements rolled unmolested into town.

The reinforcements, coming to the aid of 60 provincial police already in Asbestos on strike duty, were prepared to open the roads by force if necessary and to read the riot act to gatherings of more than two persons.

Under the early-morning urgings of Father Rodolphe Camirand, padre of the Asbestos Workers' Federation, the strikers did a complete about-face.

For one hour around midnight the road blocks of gravel trucks and cars were left unmanned while 1,500 blockade pickets went to mass and then attended a meeting called to "instruct and reorganize" them.

"HOLD FAST" ORDER

At the meeting, to the accompaniment of cheers and back-slapping, they were told to "hold fast, don't let the police in."

They marched gayly back to the blockades, armed with wooden clubs improvised from chair legs and tree branches. Less than two hours later the road blocks were again abandoned.

Father Camirand told the men: "Go home and stay home until further notice. It is useless to offer physical resistance in the face of so much police strength. You should go to bed now because you have done good work this long day and deserve a rest."

DISPERSAL QUIET

The men dispersed quietly. By the time the first police cars moved into Asbestos the dark streets were quiet and deserted.

The tension and uncertainty were broken at their headquarters in the Iroquois club, police laughed and joked among themselves while newspaper men and photographers swarmed about.

Yesterday's outbreaks of violence—most serious since the strike of 5,000 workers began Feb. 12—brought the police reinforcements here armed with tear gas bombs, Sten guns and the usual service revolvers.

Twelve of Asbestos' detachment of 60 provincial police and 14 of the strikers were reported injured.

BEATEN UNCONSCIOUS

Deputy Director Hilaire Beauregard, at headquarters in Montreal, said his men were beaten, some into unconsciousness. Others were disarmed and handcuffed with their own manacles. Police cars were overturned in the clashes.

Greatly outnumbered, the captured officers were taken off to the union hall and there taunted by strikers before being released.

Beauregard is understood to have talked by telephone with Father Camirand late last night, telling him of orders to read the Riot Act.

Rudolphe Hamel, president of the Asbestos Workers' Federation, said 14 of the strikers were hurt, none seriously, by tear gas bombs thrown by police. Hamel said his 12-year-old son suffered a head cut in the same way.

FEAR FOR JOBS

Hamel said one reason for setting up the road blocks and for yesterday's unexpected resumption of picketing was the strikers' fear that they would lose their jobs by influx of outsiders.

During the day 800 to 900 pickets threw their lines around the huge Canadian Johns-Manville plant, which normally produces more than 50 per cent of the Asbestos mined in the eastern townships

Rescue Party Finds Bodies

GIRARDVILLE, Pa., May 6.—(UP)—Four miners trapped by a raging fire in an anthracite mine 500 feet underground were found dead today by rescue workers who fought fire and smoke for 80 hours to reach them.

KILLED BY FUMES

The four men were found sprawled in a passageway on the second level of the No. 5 colliery of the Gilberton Coal Co. Rescue workers said they apparently were killed by carbon monoxide fumes shortly after the fire broke out Tuesday night.

The position of their bodies indicated that they chose to fight their way to safety rather than barricade themselves behind heavy canvas curtains on a lower level to await rescuers.

A five-man rescue team which found the bodies said the men were felled as they stopped their way through choking, poisonous smoke toward the main shaft leading to safety. Their bodies were found 800 feet away from the shaft.

The victims were William O'Brien, 53-year-old night shift foreman, and three men trapped while trying to warn him of the fire, Raymond Eye, 35; John Wolwok, 34, and William Kelley, 47.

The same poisonous smoke which killed them had prevented rescuers from reaching them. For more than two days, fellow miners tried to penetrate the smoke-filled depths, but they were thrown back repeatedly by the fumes.

Rail Traffic High in West

VANCOUVER, May 6.—(CP)—Heavy grain and oil movements are contributing to a sustained flow of rail traffic in the west, but there has been a noticeable "levelling off" of rail business in the east, G. A. McNamara, CPR vice-president of traffic, said last night.

Passenger traffic on the Pacific Coast he described as exceptionally good, although in some cases advance United States bookings have fallen off slightly.

Mr. McNamara said the proposed oil pipe line from Edmonton to Regina, when established, may cut into railroad carrying but he said he is confident the project will encourage new industries from which the railways may earn a measure of compensation.

Amphibious Landing By China Reds Halted

SHANGHAI, May 6.—(UP)—Shanghai garrison headquarters announced today that a Communist attempt to land amphibious forces in 100 small boats near the mouth of the Whangpoo 15 miles from Shanghai had been defeated.

The announcement said the landing attempt was made near the town of Liuho on the Yangtze 30 miles west of Woosung, centre of the powerful fortifications guarding the mouth of the Whangpoo, Shanghai's exit to the sea.

10 BOATS SUNK

Nationalist defenders drove off the landing attempt with heavy artillery fire, sinking 10 boats, the announcement said. The rest of the boats retreated to the north.

Another communique reported that Nationalist troops this morning still were in possession of Kashing, rail town guarding Shanghai's inland approaches 50 miles to the southwest.

Telephone reports from Kashing said Nationalist defenders still were dug in on a line five miles west. Other troops are taking up positions to the north and south of Kashing, these reports said. Gunfire and explosions indicating battle were heard from all three sides.

BACKS TO WALL

These reports said several thousand Communists attacking from the south were believed to have driven near Kashing's only airfield eight miles south of the city. The Nationalists were said to be fighting with their backs to the wall.

Another government announcement said four Chinese ringleaders of the Communist fifth column in Shanghai had been executed and that another 500 were under arrest for sabotage against the government.

Talent Search Final Goes on Saturday

Three hundred dollars in audience prizes will be given away Saturday at the grand finale of the Search for Talent contest sponsored by the Edmonton club of Associated Canadian Travellers.

Slated to begin at 8 p.m. in the RCAF drill hall, the show will feature ten competing acts, as well as starring the four talent winners.

Part of the program will be broadcast over radio station CFRN.

Thousands of Edmontonians are expected to attend the show, which marks the climax of six months' activity by the Associated Canadian Travellers' branch.

The show is to raise money for the Northern Alberta Crippled Children's Fund.

Entertainment will include a two-hour series of professional acts, with guest star Sam Logan, who was last year's Search for Talent popularity winner.

L. C. Arnold, chairman of the Crippled Children's fund committee will present prizes to the winning contestants.

Customs Up

Customs collections for April this year amounted to $697,724 compared with $932,794 for the same month last year. Collections for the first four months this year totalled $3,308,590 compared with $3,218,819 for the period ended April 30, 1948.

Home Building Is On An Upswing

1,000-House Mark Will Be Reached Next Week

Home building in Edmonton this year will pass the 1,000 mark at the beginning of next week, according to Maxwell C. Dewar, city architect.

Up to last night 842 permits were issued for new homes, their value being $3,983,358.

Since May 1 a total of 193 permits have been issued for houses with a value of $1,282,200.

In 1948 a total of 2,174 homes were erected, the value of these permits being $13,281,908.

Permits were issued yesterday to Stanley Alldrill, 10514 124 Street for the erection of 22 houses in the 109 block, 71 and 72 Avenues. Cost of this project is $150,000.

FIVE MORE

Roher and Johnson, 10028 102A Avenue, took out five permits covering houses to be erected in the 123 block on 102 Street. This project will cost $53,000.

New Building Finance Co., 150 est First Street, Vancouver, took out a permit for $90,000 covering erection of a reinforced warehouse and office building at 10302 105 Street.

H. C. Benitall, Vancouver, is architect on this project, and Dominion Construction Co., also of Vancouver, the contractor.

Faithful Companions of Jesus Convent took out a permit for a $85,000 addition to its convent at 9909 110 Street.

Ritchie Group Plans Tennis

Tennis court adjoining the Ritchie Community League Hall will be completed this spring by the Community League of the district, it was announced at the annual meeting of the group recently.

Plans call for four double courts to be built.

The league will also build a new skating rink this fall, to serve youngsters of the district.

Meeting re-elected R. B. Forsyth, 9642 77 avenue, DVA staff member of the orthopaedic and surgical division of the Col. Mewburn hospital.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. P. Spooner, vice-president; E. Evans, secretary; D. M. Jackson, treasurer; Mrs. V. Thoms, publicity, and L. Day, chairman of grounds and building committee. Chairman of committees will be elected at the first executive meeting which will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the hall.

More than $500 of the debt on the new rink house build last year has been paid, and a net surplus of $200 has been recorded, the meeting was told.

SNIPER BUSY AGAIN, ANOTHER CAR STRUCK

Snipers were at work at the High Level bridge again when a missle hit the car of Mrs. H. H. Stern, 10709 126 street as she approached the bridge from the south yesterday.

Missle was directed from the west side of the bridge and is believed to have come from a BB gun or a sling shot.

A young boy was repremanded yesterday for throwing a stone at the window of Alex Latta's car.

Mr. Latta, 11348 66 street, told police he was going south on 95th street near 105 avenue, when a missle shattered his car window.

"Where You Are Always Sure of Quality"

Judicial Ruling Needed

Premier Manning's confessed uncertainty about Alberta's rights in the matter of gas export quite clearly indicates the need for an early judicial ruling in the matter.

If Premier Manning does not know and if members of the federal cabinet hold conflicting opinions, then a competent court should be asked to decide just who can authorize the export of natural gas from Alberta.

The premier's uncertainty is reflected throughout his present statement on gas export.

He appears to cling to the earlier government policy that until Alberta's domestic needs are fully protected, gas should not be sold outside the province. With this policy The Edmonton Bulletin and gas users throughout the entire province warmly concur.

But he also suggests that export may soon be feasible and advisable. If this means that gas reserves have already been discovered in sufficient volume to guarantee continuity of gas service and stability of price to Alberta users, few will disagree with him.

But confusion obviously exists, as Mr. Manning clearly admits, as to the authority under which gas may be exported to other provinces.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, when he was recently in Edmonton, declared that Alberta alone had the right to decide whether or not gas should be exported from the province.

The railway committee supported this view, when Alberta asked that pipelines be made subject to Alberta's gas conservation legislation, by ruling that such an amendment was unnecessary because Alberta already had full jurisdiction.

But when Alberta asked that federal legislation be amended to provide that no gas or oil should be exported from the province without the approval of the lieutenant-governor-in-council, the committee refused, at the instigation of Transport Minister Chevrier, on the ground that under the BNA act the federal parliament alone had power to control imports and exports.

Thus, there is not only confusion but highly ridiculous confusion in a committee of parliament itself over this highly vital matter.

No wonder Premier Manning speaks somewhat uncertainly.

Clearly this business of gas export cannot be left so absurdly in the air.

Either Alberta has the right to forbid and control export or it has not that right. It is necessary to find out definitely and finally.

Only a court of competent jurisdiction can make that decision within a reasonable limit of time.

Chamber of Commerce Wants to Know

The present urge of the Chamber of Commerce to discover a quicker and better method of paving Edmonton's residential streets is a clear indication of the Chamber's dissatisfaction with the results now being achieved.

The decision of that large and important body to consult road engineers on methods of paving is reasonable and commendable.

As The Bulletin has always understood, the technical views of one official or group of officials in such vital undertakings should constantly be checked with other outside experts.

Whatever the qualifications or ability of any civic employe may be, there is always the very real danger of that official falling into a rut, particularly in matters of a highly technical nature where research and experimentation in all parts of the world are continually suggesting new and better techniques.

Only through the constant impact of expert minds can the best and cheapest and most effective methods be worked.

As the Chamber of Commerce points out, a comparison between Edmonton's present expansion and its present rate of road paving makes it obvious that many residential areas will never have proper roads.

This is the view that The Edmonton Bulletin has expressed time and time again.

It is the view that has caused The Bulletin and thousands of citizens to criticise the civic administration in its attitude towards paving.

It is the view that has caused The Bulletin to demand a full investigation into the efficacy of the paving methods employed.

That the Chamber of Commerce has assumed the burden of this investigation is good news.

Whether or not the Chamber will, of itself, have the facilities to conduct the survey completely is another matter.

At the very least, a healthy impetus has been given to the solution of a problem that every resident and every taxpayer regards as something of personal concern.

Dogs, Gardens and Irate Citizens

When Mayor Harry D. Ainlay gets his nose and his back and his head rescued to working order (which everybody hopes will be soon) and arrives back on the job, he is going to be faced with a civic problem that would have caused even Solomon to adjourn court at an untimely hour for lunch.

This problem which will threaten a relapse to the convalescent chief magistrate has to do with the current drive on loose and disorderly dogs.

Dog-owners, who have been flocking into police court by the scores to pay dollar fines for letting their pets run at large, are indignant. Even the deputy mayor, who paid such a fine the other day, was indignant.

And the indignation of a deputy mayor is something pretty awful to see.

Now the unfortunate part about the situation is that the majority of dog owners are sober, respectable and solid citizens.

On the other hand, owners of gardens destroyed by dogs and those who listen wakefully at nights to the barking of dogs are also sober, respectable and solid citizens.

And since sober, respectable and solid citizens are the essential backbone of the city, somebody will have to do some fairly fast thinking so that happiness and contentment may settle again, like a celestial cloud, over this community.

It occurs to us that a little give-and-take between these sober, respectable and solid citizens themselves might alter a bit off the load of the harassed administration.

For instance, dog-owners could make just a little more of an effort to keep their pets under control.

And gardeners could perhaps make just a little more of an effort to keep their gardens adequately protected by fences and shut gates.

Co-operation all around may achieve more than court action.

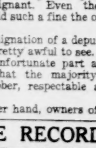
ON THE RECORD

By Dorothy Thompson

British Labor Is Not Perturbed by Reverses

LONDON—The three British leaders with whom I had personal conversations—the prime minister, Mr. Attlee; the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, and the food minister, Mr. Strachey—all assumed that the Socialist government is a fairly permanent fixture in Britain.

None of them—to me, at least—took very seriously the startling swing in the country council elections, which will be going on for some weeks still, and whose results have astonished even the Conservatives.



THOMPSON

The government consoles itself that partisan politics play less of a role in local elections than in parliamentary ones and that, therefore, they are not a cause for alarm.

But a Conservative member of parliament, a very canny Scot, predicted to me that the government would be surprised when the Conservatives carried all the leading Scottish cities, including Glasgow, perennial Labor stronghold.

If there is a change, it will come largely from the middle classes without whom Labor could not have carried Britain in 1945.

Although I saw relatively little of it myself, friends assured me there was a general revulsion against the drabness of life, the immense amount of red tape and interference, the ever-growing "nonproductive and parasite bureaucracy," and the spirit of revenge which, they insist, still colors Labor policy.

Commenting on Sir Stafford Cripps' budget, they say, "it isn't only that it's tough; Sir Stafford also thinks it's good for our souls."

Sir Stafford appears as the Savonarola of British Socialism.

How Much Resentment?

I asked the prime minister the direct question: Among Socialist leadership, how much of the impetus is idealistic desire for reform, and how much is resentment against the former leading classes?

He replied that he thought there was far more idealism—the general desire to better the lot of the average man.

He pointed out that the war—in the way all classes had worked together in the home guard and other home-defence services—had helped to open eyes to discover and appreciate each other.

Admitting that an opposition party with a mass following and unitary resentments and tends to over-promise, he remarked that in politics "one sometimes sees oneself coming back." But he emphasized the great Christian content in British Socialism, especially fostered by the social consciousness of the Nonconformist churches.

But the government, whose chief appeal has been to the expectation of more pay for less work, now must appeal for increased work and level wages, and it is certainly not wholly successful either with the trade union council or the rank and file—a situation which the Communists do their best to exploit.

And complaints from middle-class people who voted Labor four years ago include the gruesome cry "tendency to level everything down" and "a growing mediocrity in everything."

Government Confident

Yet however confident the government may be about the domestic situation, its leaders are concerned about the external situation—especially when they look forward to the not-distant time when the abnormal post-war demand will fall off and the exporters will have stronger competition, especially from America.

This government, whose leaders once were blithely anti-imperialist, has been called on to preside over the liquidation of a large part of the British Empire and now knows that losing an Empire is not a trifle.

Mr. Nehru's recent statement that India intends to cut entirely loose from the British Crown did not please Downing Street or Whitehall.

The Socialist leaders believe as firmly as Mr. Churchill in the power of a mass following and uniting factor, within Britain and throughout the Commonwealth.

Mr. Attlee said to me, in almost an echo of Mr. Churchill, that the history of even European republics—with the exception of Switzerland—has been stormy, while whatever Asia knows of democracy has been due to the influence of the West.

What they fear in India—if fear is not too strong a word—is eventual chaos, though they admire Mr. Nehru and today are grateful for Gandhi's great teaching of nonviolence.

But it is the political, rather than the commercial, situation that causes concern.

British leaders are confident they can hold Indian markets, where there is much good will and experience, provided the political situation is stable and pacific.

Dogs and Gardens

Editor, Bulletin.—The annual battle "dogs versus gardens" is again in full swing.

I like dogs, but am amazed at the utter selfishness shown by some dog owners and the queer logic they use to defend their selfishness.

We are told that dogs protect property, make children happy, help the blind, etc. All this is true, but there is got to do with allowing a dog to become a nuisance?

He cannot be protecting his master's property if he is destroying some one else's and a blind man's dog, like all valuable dogs is kept at home.

The laws regarding trespass are very clear. A man may not dig in his neighbor's garden without permission, neither may his dog. He can, if he wishes, allow the freedom of his own property to his dog. He has no jurisdiction over his neighbor's property. The trouble, I think, is caused by allowing dogs to run wild eight months in the year. Their owners have come to regard it as their right.

The ownership of a dog carries with it the responsibility for its well-being. This includes providing facilities for exercise, such as fencing in his property, or giving him a little time to take his pal out for a run.

Because so many dog owners refuse to accept this responsibility, council passed the "Restraint of Dogs" by-law, which quite justly places the onus of making the break on the dog owner, not on the neighborhood at large.

Social Credit

Editor, Bulletin—During the four years I served the Social Credit Party and Movement (there is a difference) as editor of its party organ, I became increasingly aware that the struggle within our ranks was more and more a local manifestation of the same battle raging coldly in Europe—that of the people versus the state, the evils of suspicion and bigotry that Aberhart, because of his basic greatness, had managed to keep under control, gained momentum under Manning. As Aberhart became more and more a memory and our present premier began taking the full pull of party political reins, the trend to true conservatism began.

Social Creditors were weaned to the idea that loyalty should be given not to principles but to people—particularly to Manning, Jorgenson, etc. During the initial phase of the present "rift," the government's propaganda was plugged with the refrain of "loyalty," "loyalty,"—not one whit different from the loyalty demanded by either Fascism or Communism.

The political clique dominating the Government and the League began to give expression to their dragon-seed prejudices. Hence the rift with the Quebec Social Creditors and, at home, the flagrant injustice of "thumbs down" on the French radio station.

Following this, we witnessed the purging of the most politically literate, and the most democratically-talented groups and individuals in the movement. The Social Credit Board, for example, taught loyalty to democratic ideals. Whether those ideals found original expression in England (with Major Douglas and the Secretariat) is unimportant. The present League crowd who penalise those people they suspect of taking "foreign" advice in regard to Social Credit have as much ground to stand on as I would if I were in a position to purge them because they speak a "foreign" tongue—emanating from England.

Puppet regimes have been set up by the Social Credit party all across the country, though perhaps the most flagrant of them is the recently-established "party" at Vancouver, organized and appointed (as usual) from Edmonton, in the face of the regular democratic convention called openly by Major A. H. Jukes only a week or so before. It is the same picture as that presented by the "free" Polish government, and the like—only as yet not quite so frightening in its consequences.

From the beginning almost, Pat H. Ashby was marked for liquidation. He talked a Social Credit of which Manning seems to care little—the pure, original teachings which make all representatives servants of their electors.

I still have the minutes of meetings of the National Council held at Winnipeg, Regina and Calgary in which Dr. Haldeman of Regina and R. D. Jorgenson of Edmonton informed me (for my editorial benefit) of the Premier's displeasure of Ashby's philosophy and the amount of publicity the paper was giving him. I was told that I'd better be party Ashby Edmonton East, Ashby would have to go.

Terrible Dressers

Editor, Bulletin.—In these serious times I hope that it will not be considered levity to discuss a lighter and domestic problem. With the impending threat of a war of extinction hanging over our heads, I think that our polecy-static short lives could be brightened considerably if our Canadian women were to pay more attention to the way they dress.

I am not going to detract one whit from the goodness and purity of our Canadian womanhood, but rather deplore the manner in which they characteristically imitate a poorly harnessed farm horse. Those of us who in the last war had the opportunity of visiting the European continent were pleasantly astonished at the manner in which the European women dressed.

It was not so much the cost of their apparel but rather the attention that they put to style and presentation. These women had made a study of wearing their clothes and can do more with a few yards of colored rayon than most Canadian women do with an unlimited charge account.

No one is denying the wholesomeness of our Canadian women. It is just a case of whether one prefers a hearty corned beef dish or a dessert of crepe suzette. Corned beef gets awfully monotonous day in and day out.

Road To Utopia

Editor, Bulletin—Re your letter in the press "Road to Utopia." In support of Leo Meyer's three-point proposals, namely:

1. A just excess profit tax;
2. A just turnover tax;
3. A just standard of living.

we admire and congratulate him on his thorough and careful analysis of our economy.

In my humble opinion, it is the nucleus of the BNA act as the missing link to prosperity, a bridge to consolidate economy. It will make mankind the masters of money and machinery and will put them to full and proper use for the welfare of humanity. It will bring about the necessary and proper reform; it will bring production and consumption on an equitable basis, including exports and imports; it will bring a just standard of living and a just price.

Taxes will ultimately become all but non-existing, the proper application of the proposal will forthwith release the necessary amount of hidden reserves to pay to the individual a dividend sufficient until the proposed set will properly adjust the present system of production, etc.

It will remove the necessity of all philanthropical social services of all and any benevolent charitable institutions. It will remove our present official beats relief system as a contribution to keep the body together. It will remove the mountains of taxes from the individual, but just those demonstrated in Meyer's letter.

The principal point in the excess profit tax is to govern and control the whole economy, the necessary revenue required would be derived mainly from the turnover tax of the turnover of business. Business would increase to such an extent that all our national economy would function on a solid basis and not on a gambling, speculative spinning wheel of luck and good fortune.

Service Was Bad

Editor, Bulletin.—Last Sunday evening three very distressed Edmontonians, and an extremely disgusted Toronto guest, emerged from a certain fish and chip shop on Jasper avenue.

The reasons are as follows:

On entering the above mentioned shop, we were duly seated at a booth comfortably seating the four of us. Shortly after an extremely sloppy looking waitress came and asked us for our orders. We asked her, quite civilly, for menus, and received the reply, "there ain't no menu," and, that our only choice was either fish or chips. After quite a bit of arguing again whether there was no other selection at all we received an answer in the negative.

After finishing our order of fish and chips we overheard another waitress order a ham sandwich, of which we had been denied a choice. When our waitress returned, one of our party ordered a ham sandwich, while we asked for a selection of desserts. After a lot of items mumbled so quickly and fast that we could only catch one item we asked if it was very good, we received no answer. Our bill was written out as it stood, and we were refused service.

However still undaunted by this extremely rude service, we asked another waitress if she would wait on us. She answered that she could not, but we asked to see the manager. We were duly informed that the manager was not there, and that we would have to see the cashier. We saw the cashier and she immediately took the side of the waitress, but compromised and allowed us to finish our meal. We do not think that that kind of service should happen in our city and we were extremely embarrassed that it should happen while our friend was visiting us.

Just one more thing, we think that the city health commissioner should take a peek at the above mentioned shop, the condition of the only washroom was vile, and the cutlery looked as if it hadn't been washed for over a month.

THREE DISGUSTED EDMONTONIANS.

Trivia

Britain is producing a unique and unusual work of reference, a Dictionary of Colours for Interior Decoration. It will be the first of its kind ever to be published. Information on this interesting new artistic and commercial venture was given by its sponsors, the British Colour Council. The dictionary will contain standard specimens of 378 different colours. These are illustrated on both plain and matt surfaces as well as on pile fabric. Each carries its own individual reference number. Seven years of intensive research work and consultation lie behind this work of reference.

Scores Day-Time Radio As Vulgar Emotional Tripe

Sometimes I think I will give up this precarious living of commenting on general events and concentrate exclusively on the subject of day-time radio, a field so inviting of critical comment that any writer might make an orgy of it.

I honestly don't understand the mind of the North American housewife who not only listens to hour upon hour, day upon day of absolute bilge, but now actively participates in the pumping from the working side of the microphone.

There are two local males who broadcast daily to the ladies, each said to have a comfortable audience. These gentlemen are on the air a great deal. Thus the listener may compare their styles of delivery and take the evidence for what its worth.

In addressing evening audiences, presumably of both sexes, the boys adopt a more-or-less straightforward, energetic style. Ah, but in the sunnier part of the day, alone with the girls, they are unbelievably cosy and folksy, given to small guttural chuckles, elaborately casual and relaxed.

At my wife's suggestion I listened to these fellows a couple of times last week and tried to identify that particular tone of voice. I knew I had heard men use it before, but where . . . when? Then it came to me. It was the way drunken men talk to dogs.

I would like to think that such knaves attract women listeners merely for their "irritation value," a big factor in modern radio, but this does not explain the fact that thousands of women are not merely tuning in, but actually stampeding to the radio stations to babble, themselves, into the unsuspecting air.

There never was a time in history when it was easier to make a fool of yourself and the ladies are queued up, begging for the opportunity.

Vulgar Display

There is a great temptation to suggest that radio is violating the sanctity of the American home, but one must remember that the ladies perform voluntarily. And since their programs invariably lead the Hooper polls —and may be produced without paid talent on a poverty budget —one must not be too critical of an industry always eager to genuflect to the lowest taste of the public.

But what alarms and disgusts this occasional eavesdropper is the demeanor of what we must assume are typical housewives as they engage in their coast-to-coast spasm of back-fence confidences.

This may be caused by the curious fact that while the average man will freeze up into monosyllables at a microphone, the average woman tends to erupt into inane, non-stop dialogue and must be forcibly removed from the studio, still wildly chattering.

Whatever it is, thousands of repressed women are giggling the details of their lost love lives into open microphones, trading the shabby intelligence of their barren boudoirs for a gleaming garbage disposal unit, simpering the sad story of America's Mrs. Babbitt for the amusement and scorn of their sisters across the continent.

Indeed, I doubt if this verbosity is merely a reflex and I suspect that there may be something about this average housewife (who at best, leads a grey and anonymous life in Suburbia) that cries out for display and exhibitionism.

How else explain the fact that elderly ladies will rise from their death beds to be lifted up on a studio stage and go three fast rounds with a pulpy shouting master-of-ceremonies who will clout them on their frail backs, spunk of their own age as if it were a batting average and bestow a wet, burlesque kiss on their wrinkled faces as if they were conferring sainthood.

How else explain the fool, frightened women engaging in contests that would tax the mind of a village idiot or singing some song in voices of terror and embarrassment? How else explain the mass hysteria of a studio full of vapid women in the early stages of bawling "Happy Birthday" to some female they have never seen, responding to the whip of an extroverted clown hired to sell somebody's soap chips?

Surely all this can not be easily explained by the fact that the ladies are rewarded, or bribed, with kitchen appliances. Surely not in America, which has the world's highest rate of garbage disposal units?

Versus Husband

Possibly the most disillusioning, and tragic, aspect of these daytime programs is that they reveal a sort of childish delight on the part of so many wives in their husbands look ridiculous.

Not more than an hour before I wrote this I listened to two women a thousand miles away having a delicious time comparing notes on their husbands' inability to buy clothes. "Oh, he looks terrible," one woman trilled in discussing her man. "It just shows how he selects clothes, but he has such a fat stomach."

This sally was greeted with delighted titters from the ladies of the audience, all sitting there flexing their muscles and all the sudden wish that the lady's husband, on arriving home that night, should violently garotte her.

It is all part of the tradition of modern day-time American radio which panders to every housewife, if she so desires, to wallow in a mire of stupidity and coarseness and then to cast a warm glow of security knowing there are so many others with her. I suppose in floor make the wonderful peril of living less dangerous.

Looking Backward

1889—60 Years Ago

John Longmore has arrived here from Battleford to take up residence.

Board of trade meeting here was attended by James McDougall, John Cameron, Dr. Wilson, Donald Ross, Phil Daly, Alex. Taylor, J. M. McDonald, and A. F. Degagne.

1899—50 Years Ago

Dr. Brett has resigned as a member of the North West Assembly.

British Columbia's anti-Japanese legislation will probably be disallowed.

Cecil Rhodes is the man of the hour in England.

1909—40 Years Ago

Wheat seeding in the west will be completed this week.

Excavation has started for the new brick warehouse to be built by the Royal Fruit Co.

New York: Sir Robert Perks arrived here on his way to Ottawa to begin construction of the Montreal-Ottawa and Georgian Bay canals.

1919—30 Years Ago

Paris: Preparations have been made for a complete blockade of German ports if the delegates of that country refuse to sign the treaty.

1929—20 Years Ago

Ottawa: Air mail service will not be extended to the Pacific coast this year as a feasible route through the mountains has not been found, government officials said.

Berlin: Nearly 30 persons have died in fighting between police and Communists here.

1939—10 Years Ago

London: King George and Queen Elizabeth left here today for a visit to Canada.

Three Beverly boys drowned in the North Saskatchewan river near Edmonton today when the rowboat they were sailing overturned.

Shell bullet fired by an unknown sniper splintered glass in a street car as the vehicle crossed the high level bridge.

From Today's News

By Dewitt Mackenzie

The heroic air lift which finally has forced the raising of the Russian blockade of Berlin has been a labor of Hercules and costly in many respects but on balance it represents blessings in disguise for the Western Allies.

Defence Secretary Johnson of the United States yesterday characterized the carrying out of this task as "one of the greatest transportation feats in history." Britain's Prime Minister Attlee, after seeing it in operation recently, described it as "one of the wonders of the world."

There's no exaggeration in those statements. The air lift has been an unprecedented demonstration of power, technical skill, vast resources of courage and determination—and of Allied unity.

Because the air lift represents all these things there is no doubt, as I see it, that it must have a huge influence in welding together the countries of Western Europe into the Atlantic Pact. That air lift has been a mighty builder of morale among the peoples.

But that isn't the whole story. This gruelling and dangerous task, which even has cost lives, has provided Britain, the United States and their allies with technical knowledge which could have been gained in no other way and which might be invaluable in event of another war.

Smiles

Disgusted Professor: "What did you come to college for, anyway? You are not studying."

Bobby Rahrah: "Well, mother says it's to fit me for the presidency; Uncle Jim, to sow my wild oats; sister Helen, to get a chum for her to marry, and dad, to bankrupt the family."

RUTHLESS AND AMBITIOUS champion of the fight ring, and champion with the women he loves and leaves, Kirk Douglas is shown here in a staggering moment from the film "Champion," playing today at Edmonton's Rialto Theatre. Based on Ring Lardner's short story, "Champion" brings to the screen every tense and emotional moment of the classic drama. Ruth Roman plays Kirk Douglas' wife.

For more than 30 years Ring Lardner's short, "Champion," has remained a challenge to the screen, labelled too difficult to handle.

Only recently Stanley Kramer, head of Screen Plays, Inc. decided to take his courage in his hands and transfer the tough, vital story to the screen, with Kirk Douglas in the title role.

The eagerly-awaited film adaptation is playing at the Rialto today.

REALISTIC FILM

Tensely emotional and cruelly realistic, "Champion" tells the story of Midge Kelly, handsome, utterly ruthless contender for fight honors, who climbed to fame leaving a trail behind strewn with the bruised men and women who had aided him.

The three women in his life, the men who plucked him virtually from the gutter and raised him to fame and fortune, are left forever with the sordid bruises caused by contact with the public idol. No one who knows him escapes uninjured.

At the end, in a climax that is said to be more exciting than any ever before filmed, Midge is still undefeated champion of the world —paying a price for it so staggeringly high that audiences leave the theatre emotionally exhausted from the intensity and realism of the story they have seen come to life on the screen.

PRO FIGHTER USED

Fight sequences were made completely realistic with the aid of former welterweight champ Musky Callaghan who was brought in to see that all details were carefully worked out, before screening took place. He also trained star Kirk Douglas.

Several professional pugilists were signed on by the producer to play in preliminary fight sequences in the film.

Top feature players besides star Kirk Douglas are Arthur Kennedy, Ruth Roman, Lola Albright and Paul Stewart.

IN ONE OF THE MORE sombre moments of his newest movie Danny Kaye receives a word of encouragement from Virginia Mayo. A Song Is Born, opening today at the Capitol Theatre, is the funniest role of Kaye's career and the film includes famous specialties by Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey, Louis Armstrong, Lionel Hampton, Charlie Barnet and the Golden Gate Quartet.

DRUG BRINGS RELIEF FROM POLIO PAIN

BUFFALO, N.Y., May 6.—A drug bringing quick, safe relief from pain in poliomyelitis was announced today by three New York physicians.

Pain, and cramping or spasm are often severe in the early stages of polio. Even muscles that don't become paralyzed are often painful and tender to the touch.

The drug, named Prisecl, quickly abolishes the pain, spasm and tenderness, Drs. Emil Smith, David J. Graubard and Phillip Rosenblatt told the New York State Medical Society.

They said it had worked successfully and often dramatically, on 120 polio patients treated with it last year. The drug can be taken by mouth or may be injected.

The polio victims got relief from pain within 24 hours or sometimes less, they said. Arms or legs which they kept bent because of pain or spasm could be straightened out easily. This permits quicker exercise to keep the muscle strong and reduce the after-effects of polio.

Some improved so quickly that they could be sent home or to orthopedic hospitals within a week or two, the physicians reported.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD—(AP) — "Like Tennyson's Brook," said the screen's original Cisco Kid, "he goes on and on forever."

Warner Baxter could have been talking about the Kid—or himself. Both have had long histories in the motion picture business, and neither seems to be coming to a halt.

"It's a thrill every time a new 'Kid' picture comes out," Baxter said on the "Beyond These Walls" set. "The Oscar I won as the original Cisco Kid has a place of honor in my house.

RADIO AND VIDEO

"The role has been played by Cesar Romero, Gilbert Roland and Duncan Renaldo since my time. Now the Cisco Kid has a radio show and is a good bet for television."

In recent years, Baxter has been identified as Dr. Ordway of the "Crime Doctor" series. Instead of yelping about being typed, he says of the role:

"It's a very comfortable way to continue a long career. When you are doing a familiar character, he practically becomes a friend of yours, and more important, a friend of the audience."

Picture making occupies only a small amount of Baxter's time now. His energies are also devoted to his real estate and his office as mayor of Malibu.

NOTES AND STUFF

Young stars who complain about overwork might take note of 68-year-old Ethel Barrymore. She's starting her fourth picture in six months. . . .

Good news: James Cagney to do another musical. His George M Cohan number was the biggest thrill of the recent all-industry benefit, the Friars' Frolic.

Romantics of the '20s will get a jolt seeing Ramon Novarro in 'We Were Strangers." He plays a fast-talking, middle-aged conspirator. . . .

New Variety of Blood Fourth Major Group

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, May 6.—(AP)—Discovery of a new type of human blood, the fourth major group to be found, was announced today in the American Research Journal of Science.

CALLED AFTER FAMILY

The new blood is called Cellano, from the family name of a New Jersey mother in her 30s, through whom it was discovered. It was found because she lacked this factor. The lack had caused her newborn baby to be ill with a puzzling anemia and yellowed with jaundice. The baby survived.

The other main blood types are the groups AN, the types MN and the RH factor. Three minor blood types are known respectively as the P factor, Lutheran and Lewis. The discoverer of the new type, Dr. Philip Levine, is the man who also discovered the RH factor in 1939. He did not name it. It was done a year later by the late Dr. Karl Landsteiner.

MENACE TO NEWBORN

Cellano, like the other types, jellies the blood of a person not possessing that kind. Like RH it is a menace to the newborn, and in the same way—that is, when the mother doesn't possess it.

The lack of Cellano type is rare. In tests of 2,000 human beings to date 90.8 per cent had this Cellano factor.

People who lack this new factor are being listed so that there will be a source for transfusions for Cellano negative people. The negative blood is also collected for study.

High Schools Start Reforestation Plan

KITCHENER, Ont., May 6.—(CP)—Two hundred students from 12 rural schools in Wilmot township have enrolled in a reforestation program that will eventually plant about 100,000 trees on a new county farm near Peterboro, west of here.

A similar job is being done at Shelburne, some 30 miles north of here, where 7,000 seedling trees were recently planted in less than three hours by 120 boys and girls from Shelburne High School.

G-E Researcher Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, May 6.—(CP)—William Ewart Ross, assistant to the president of Canadian General Electric Co., Ltd., died today.

'Hopper Plague Faces Manitoba

Amount of Rain in Next Few Weeks Major Factor

WINNIPEG, May 6.—(CP)—Manitoba's farmers will face a severe infestation of grasshoppers this summer, but whether they will reach major plague proportions depends upon the amount of rain which falls on the infested areas in the next few weeks, officials of the provincial agriculture department said today.

They warned against over-optimistic reports that the province might escape a grasshopper plague this summer.

"As long as the eggs are in the ground they are a potential menace when they hatch and they are there by the millions," the officials said.

If hot, dry weather continues during the spring and early summer the grasshoppers would become a major threat to crops. But the menace would be greatly moderated if moisture conditions were good in the heavily-infes'ed southern sections of the province.

H. E. Wood, in charge of the government's grasshopper control campaign, this week visited Morris, Winkler, Morden, Carman and Brunkild districts to investigate reports of grasshoppers hatching.

Is the pests hatching after May 15 which will do the damage, departmental officials said.

Mr. Wood found moisture conditions in the threatened southern areas improved. New chemical sprays will be used against the grasshoppers in those districts.

"NO DAMAGE YET"

Those already hatched have been identified by Prof. A. V. Mitchener of the University of Manitoba's entomological department as a species which will not harm crops. It is the pests hatching after May 15 which will do the damage, departmental officials said.

Mr. Wood found moisture conditions in the threatened southern areas improved. New chemical sprays will be used against the grasshoppers in those districts.

Uranium Mine Possibilities In Sask. Still Unknown

By Douglas How

OTTAWA, May 6.—(CP)—Has Canada got another Eldorado uranium mine in northern Saskatchewan that will put her at the top of the list of producers of the atomic material?

It will be another year before she knows, W. J. Bennett, president of the Crown-owned Eldorado Mining and Refining Limited, said today in an interview.

In the meantime any speculation about Canada forging to the front in uranium production is "pure speculation," because an "intensive search" is going on around the globe.

CONGO OUTPUT UNKNOWN

Canada actually knows practically nothing about production and distribution in the Belgian Congo field which is generally accepted as the biggest producer in the western sphere of the world.

Just as secret from the public's standpoint is Canada's own production and the price she charges the United States for the material and manufacture in the U.S., Britain and Canada which now has cost billions of dollars.

For 1949 the Eldorado firm will concentrate exploration and development activities largely in the gold fields area on Lake Athabasca in far northern Saskatchewan, Mr. Bennett said. There are three groups of claims there "of particular interest."

ELDORADO 'NORMAL'

By this time next year it should be clear whether it will become a mine. Meanwhile Eldorado, some 600 miles north on Great Bear Lake, is continuing "at a normal rate of production."

Mr. Bennett said the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission is "the principal market" for Canadian uranium. Any speculation about future price increases to Canadian mines "has at best a recreational value," he said, predicting that the price guaranteed by Eldorado to Canadian private producers until 1953 will continue to be the base price for that period.

The guaranteed price for the uranium content of ores and concentrates, the minimum uranium content of which is equivalent to 10 per cent by weight of uranium oxide in the ores and concentrates, is $2.75 a pound.

GUARANTEES IN EFFECT

Until March 1, 1955, Eldorado will purchase all the uranium which meets requirements. After that supply and demand will still be the deciding factor in price. In the meantime there is a guaranteed market and a guaranteed price.

"On the basis of geological information now available," Mr. Bennett said, "there is every reason to believe that Canada has a great potential as a producer of uranium."

Mize Timing Good For 300th Homer

NEW YORK, May 6—(UP)—Big John Mize, the tomato-faced slugger of New York Giants, picked the perfect moment to hit the 300th homer of his long career yesterday, smashing the ball into the upper right field stands in the 10th inning to beat Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-2.

Mize, who now has more homers than any other player active in the majors except Joe DiMaggio of New York Yankees, who has 303, broke up the game against Murry Dickson, Pirate relief pitcher, who had a count of two and nothing on the cigar-smoking first sacker. Dickson last season set an all-time major league mark for serving up home run pitches, 39, and he proved he hadn't lost his touch in the current Giant series when he yielded four.

BEHRMAN WINS FIRST

Relief pitcher Hank Behrman was credited with the victory, his first.

Billy Cox also won a ball game with a homer, hitting a three-run blow in the eighth inning to give the Dodgers their third straight victory over Cincinnati, 7-5, in Brooklyn. Gil Hodges also hit a homer for the Dodgers who now have connected for the route at least once in their last nine games. Rookie Morris Martin, a lefty, won his first big league game in relief.

The Cardinals salvaged the finale of a three game set in Philadelphia, breaking a five-game Philly winning streak, winning 3-2 in the ninth when Ron Northey hit a home run. Red Munger went the route to win his first game of the season.

They took down the trick fence in Comiskey park because it was too hard on Chicago general manager Frank Lane's heart, but the Yankees blasted a long distance homer by Tommy Henrich anyway, the key blow in a 7-3 victory over the White Sox.

It was the 12th victory in 15 starts for the Yankees, who are getting off to their fastest start since the 1932 season when they won 16 of their first 17 games, then breezed to the pennant. Allie Reynolds, with relief help from Joe Page, won his second game.

Detroit Tigers won their fourth straight game, topping the Athletics, 6-3, with Aaron Robinson's fourth homer of the season the deciding blow. Dizzy Trout, turning in another good relief job, saved the victory for young Ted Gray.

FELLER RIDES AGAIN

Bob Feller returned to action with a creditable pitching performance at Cleveland, beating the Red Sox 7-3 and giving up but six hits. Cleveland manager Lou Boudreau got involved in a squabble with pitcher Dorish, whom he accused of trying to bean him. Feller showed no trace of the shoulder soreness which has kept him out of the lineup.

The surprising Washington Senators, still showing unexpected batting strength, pushed across three runs in the eighth inning to down St. Louis Browns 5-3.

'Say . . . This is No Bandbox of a Park'

FIRST LOOK AT RENFREW PARK . . . Outfielder Bill Keeley, Vancouver product who joined Eskimos earlier on, pauses for a quick glance at Renfrew's playing surface before hopping over the railing onto the diamond. Last season with VAC's in the coast city Keeley shaped up as a good hitter against Senior league pitching.

Lou Hiatt Thinks Cubs Should Lay Off Martin

Lou Hiatt, usually a soft-spoken individual was in about as close to a screaming mood last night as ever he gets.

Specifically the manager of the CNR entry in the Junior Baseball circuit was showing concern over whether or not manager Lea Edwards of the Big Four league Cubs might have designs on one pitcher Howard Martin.

Martin is the strapping (6'1", 180 pounds) 17-year old righthander from Pincher Creek who, for the past couple of seasons, has made a practice of attending springtime baseball school on the other side of the line.

OFF TO FLORIDA

A few weeks back, for instance, Martin hied himself to 'Rip' Blooper Ball! Sewell's 'college' at Bartow, Florida, for instruction.

Anyway Hiatt feels he has prior claim on Martin because he 'saw him first.' In other words he arranged for the young fellow to secure employment in Edmonton on the understanding that he serve up his best Sunday curves in the interest of the Junior league railywaymen.

Now he finds that the Sewell tutored moundsman has taken to working out, at least now and then, with the Cubs. And he doesn't much like it.

"Ducey (John Ducey, general manager of Eskimos, the other local entry in the Big Four) has guaranteed me he won't touch any of our players," Hiatt said. He seemed to think management of Cubs should indicate, by word and action, that the motormen also are prepared to adopt a 'hands-off' policy.

Perhaps all unaware that he might be precipitating a rhubarb manager Edwards sent his Cubs through their usual workout at Renfrew last night. Doug Stevenson, last season's hand(o)man, rejoined the club after a 'cuppa cawfee' or two in organized baseball ranks at the coast.

Stevenson was one of the most dangerous hitters in the circuit in 1948 and his return will bolster Cubs' chances of deserting the basement this time.

Manager Ralph Morgan likewise drilled the Eskimos. The roster was swelled by the arrival from his Moose Jaw home of pitcher Jack Devine, a sensation last season in Saskatchewan semi-pro ranks.

Devine, a 175-pound righthander, boasted a 30-7 won, lost record for 1948.

Thursday Night Bowlers Have Fun

A full house of trundlers from Thursday Night Mixed Bowling league invaded the Corona Hotel last night for their annual wind-up banquet and dance.

Presentation of prizes, with most of the haul going to the Screwballs captained by Jim Rutherford, president-elect of the Western Canada Five-Pin Association, highlighted the formal section of the evening.

Among the guests at the head table were Jim Smith, president of the Monday Night Mixed league, Mr. and Mrs. Joe PreFontaine, and Walt Ramsey, Edmonton's patriarch of the alleys.

Allan Cup Hi-Jinks . . . Full Steam Ahead

Pickard Offers Solution East Branch Says "No Go"

REGINA, May 6—(CP)—President Al Pickard of the Canadian Amateur Hockey association said last night the executive members of the CAHA have been asked to vote on his recommendation that the "fifth game of the Allan cup series be played in Otthwa Saturday and if a sixth and seventh games are necessary these be played in Montreal."

Mr. Pickard said the result of the telegraphic vote of the 13 executive members would be known later today. Decision would be final.

"I feel that the original decision stating all games for Ottawa was made without due consideration of all factors involved," he said. "I have therefore recommended that the CAHA executive adopt the revised schedule."

The senior hockey championship series between Ottawa Senators and Regina Capitals—which Ottawa leads three games to one—would go to Montreal for the sixth game, if necessary, on May 10 and on the seventh, Saturday May 14.

NOT THROWING WEIGHT AROUND

Mr. Pickard said he realized the regulations of the CAHA empowered him as president to fix the venue of the games "but I have not exerted that authority because the original decision regarding the venue of games was made by the CAHA executive.

"In addition, Regina is my home city. I would therefore prefer that final decision be made by the executive."

However it appeared that Pickard's proposed solution might run into a blind switch due to the action of the Quebec Amateur Hockey association, a branch of the CAHA that includes the Quebec Senior league in which the Senators played all season.

Almost in defiance of Pickard's proposal re a vote of the executive the QAHA ordered the Ottawa club to play its remaining games in Ottawa and "not play elsewhere."

QAHA president Azarie Choquet also wired Pickard as follows:

"We (the executive) insist that the balance of the Allan cup series be played at Ottawa as decided at the Winnipeg meeting. The Ottawa hockey club has been ordered by the Quebec branch not to play elsewhere."

O.K. By EHRLE

In Toronto Cliff Ehrle, manager of Regina Capitals, said his team would be "satisfied" with a proposal to play the fifth Allan cup game in Ottawa Saturday and the sixth game, if necessary, in Montreal Tuesday night.

Ehrle said:

"That's all right with me. The boys will enjoy visiting Montreal."

At Ottawa manager Tommy Gorman of the Senators said Senators will obey the orders of the Quebec Amateur Hockey association to play all remaining Allan cup final games in Ottawa "no matter what takes place."

Senators returned to Ottawa today after dropping the fourth game of the series to Regina 6-3.

Mass. Solons Balk At Back-Patting

BOSTON, May 6.—(BUP)—The Boston Braves and Red Sox will have to get along without the backing of the Massachusetts legislature.

The house yesterday refused to adopt resolutions extending the good wishes of the legislature to both teams. It also rejected a proposal to congratulate the Braves for winning the National pennant last year.

Costs May Force Leafs From WCHL

REGINA, May 6.—(BUP)—President Al Pickard of the Canadian Amateur Hockey association said yesterday that high costs may force withdrawal of Lethbridge from the Western Canada Senior Hockey league next fall.

He said the high operation costs and a limited income because of a small rink would be the main reason if the withdrawal took place.

Even Regina was feeling the pinch, he said. Backers of the Caps estimate their expenses at $100,000 for the 1948-49 season.

Twenty years ago the Regina Aces operated for as little as $3,500 a season, $900 less than the best paid Capital of 1949 and only $500 more than was paid to one of the Montreal Royal junior stars.

As for the cities now supporting senior hockey in Alberta and Saskatchewan — Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Regina and Saskatoon —Pickard believes high calibre hockey survives there because of a great sports tradition.

Western fans who have watched outstanding hockey for many years, he says, don't want to take a back seat to eastern Canada. Enough team backers with money share this feeling to keep senior hockey alive in the west.

LOUIS SUCCEEDS OLD BOSS

Mike Jacobs Steps Out Of Boxing Spotlight

NEW YORK, May 6—(AP)—Michael Strauss Jacobs, the man who for a dozen years has bossed boxing more than anyone since Tex Rickard's time, quietly bowed out yesterday.

Jacobs silently nodded in agreement as John Reed Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, announced that Jacobs' 20th Century Sporting club would relinquish its promotional rights to a new corporation. The new group will be allied with the International Boxing club of Chicago.

The change won't take place until June 1, when Jacobs' leases for boxing at the Garden and "elsewhere," including Yankee Stadium, will be transferred to a new corporation in the process of formation.

But for all practical purposes, yesterday's announcement means that Jacobs has relinquished his active role as a boxing promoter and Joe Louis, the man whom Mike guided to world championship heights, will take his place in the public eye as the top man in boxing.

The extent of the alliance between the new and unnamed corporation which will supplant the 20th Century club in New York and the International Boxing club, recently organized by Louis, James D. Norris and Arthur M. Wirtz of Chicago, has not been determined.

The 20th Century club will remain active at least until June 1, conducting the three boxing cards already scheduled for May in the Garden and St. Nicholas Arena. Then the boxing leases now held by Jacobs will be transferred to the new corporation.

Jacobs, who has been inactive since he suffered a cerebral haemorrhage on Dec. 3, 1946, will have a place in the new corporation, but the extent of his participation was not made clear.

CALGARY GINGER ALE

Moher ON SPORT

By STAN MOHER, Sports Editor

As Long As It Isn't Hard

The customers are always "right-ing" . . .

Andy Rainsberry, 1602 Scotland st., Calgary: "When I read the item about naming the Edmonton football club the name of "Hard-Oils" came to my mind immediately.

"When old Petrolia (Ont.) was in the oil years ago 'Hard-Oil' was the battle cry. However as Petrolia grew smaller and Sarnia grew fast Sarnia took over the game but they called themselves the Imperials and dropped the Hard-Oil name.

"Now that Petrolia is gone forever I think the Edmonton Hard-Oils would be just right. I hear Edmonton calls Calgary a five gallon town wearing a 10-gallon hat.

"Hope your Edmonton club will be almost as good as Calgary Stampeders."

Comment: For the life of us we don't know whether citizen Rainsberry is kidding or not about the Hard-Oils tag for the Annis Stukus mob. But anyway there it is. As to Calgary being a five gallon town wearing a 10 gallon hat we'd say that's giving Cowtown all the best of it.

Last time we made a tour of Centre Street and Eight avenue the southern burg had all the signs of becoming a ghost town. Of course this was by comparison with Edmonton, San Francisco, Montreal and other BIG, progressive cities.

★ ★ ★ ★

Paging R. Hope, F. Allen et al

And still another Calgarian, C. W. Roenisch, 608 Herald Bldg., 'calls' the Kentucky Derby to finish like this: 'The Calgary Stampeders,' Les Lear, Keith Spaith and 'Woody' Strode.

Comment: We still like Bob Hope's script writers.

Jack Virtue, 10173 92 St., Edmonton: "In regard to your question of 'whatever became of Vean Gregg?' . . . as recently as last year he owned a filling station in Seattle."

Comment: Better the onetime major league hurler had stayed around Leduc where he farmed for a time. By now he might own an oil well.

Another anonymous Calgarian (how those guys love to write to a 'big-city' sheet) thinks Harold Gordon, last season with New York Rovers, should be playing goal for the Flyers next season. He says the young man can come up with his release from the junior Rangers, is keen to get a job and play somewhere in Alberta. Also he sez Gordon can supply good references.

Comment: While we might like to line up a net-minder for the Flyers the task of assembling the club still belongs to Frank Currie and it serves him right. Anyway if Gordon is WCHL calibre why don't Calgary Stampeders—the Old Men of the Ice Lanes—reach for him?

Certainly the Stamps can't go on much longer trading on the fact that they won the Allan cup three years ago.

★ ★ ★ ★

A Message From Morris

And now Ed Morris, fiery manager of last season's Eskimos of the Big Four league, who is with Great Falls of the Pioneer circuit: " . . . Really sorry not to be going back there this year but things just didn't pan out that way. Wish you would tell the baseball fans up there just how much I appreciated their support."

Comment: Those same fans will be after missing the colorful antics of Morris, to say nothing of his contribution as a player, as the season runs its course.

J.J.R., Whitecourt: "Seems to me you picked Regina Caps to win the Allan cup many weeks ago. What do you say now? Have you thought up the usual alibi? (ed. note: This was received after the third game, with Ottawa leading 3-0).

Comment: No comment—yet. As to an alibi there's always that egg-shaped rink in Ottawa to fall back on. After all what's been good enough for the Caps as a way out should suffice for us.

Ezra Stauffer, Tofield: "Are there two 'Spunk' Sparrows?" All this about him being in the electrical business in Brooks is very mystifying. I have it reliably that THE 'Spunk' Sparrow has become an American citizen. Furthermore he lives in Lancaster, Penn."

Comment: You could fool us on this one. We're inclined to the belief that the onetime Western Canada Hockey league star is the gent in Lancaster. In which case how about the one supposedly living in southern Alberta? Calling all Pinkertons, calling all . . .

Shoe on Other Foot Last Night

THE TABLES TURNED . . . As Montreal Royals edged Brandon Wheat Kings by 1-0 at Winnipeg last night. A goal by Bob Frampton, Royals' captain, turned the tide in the thrilling fourth game of the Memorial cup finals. In an earlier game Frampton (8), above, wasn't so fortunate, Wheaties' netminder Ray Frederick blocking his drive.

Option System, Grid Style 'Earmarks' Stadium Seats

Ask the man who has one what he thinks of the option system used by Flyers hockey team to dispose of tickets and you'll very likely find he's carrying a big torch for the plan.

It's something else again, though, with those who, for a variety of reasons, haven't been able to get their name on the 'preferred list', as it's sometimes known.

VIOLENT ARGUMENTS CAUSED

Result: the option system has been cause for violent arguments when the 'haves' and 'have-nots' get together. Also it has resulted in many former hockey fans vowing never to support the Flyer cause, come recession, depression or any other economic cycle.

All of which is a long-winded approach to the fact that right now the men behind the new Edmonton entry in the Western Football conference see themselves gradually getting into the same 'fix' (the system, unpopular as it is in certain quarters nevertheless has proven a bonanza to the Exhibition association, sponsor of the Flyers).

As is known, close to 500 grid enthusiasts have taken out membership in Dr. Marcus Dunsworth's Touchdown club. Cost has ranged all the way from $10, in the case of individuals, to the $100 which a good many firms and business houses have laid out for their membership.

In return one of the concessions made to members is that of having the first crack when it comes time to sign up for season tickets. It's understood each member of the Touchdown club is to be offered a chance to get on the line for a minimum of our tickets. Should these be snapped up—and chances are they will—it follows that more than 2,000 seats at Clarke Stadium already are as good as gone.

SEATS ARE SCARCE

Under the present set-up even the RCMP couldn't find more than 2,700-3,000 available seats at the stadium.

Obviously then it behooves those citizens who expect to have a yen for football in the autumn, but have not as yet jumped on the bandwagon, to rustle up a membership in the Touchdown club. Otherwise they may be left out in the cold, particularly should the city not elect to erect additional stands before the conference season opens in September.

Royals Win 4th Game 1-0

Bob Frampton's 'Big' Tally Greases Skids For Brandon

WINNIPEG, May 6—(CP)—A second period goal by captain Bob Frampton last night gave Montreal Royals a 1-0 victory over Brandon Wheat Kings and one-game lead in their best-of-seven Memorial cup hockey final. Fifth game will be played at Brandon Saturday night.

In a hard-checking bruising battle which saw neither team give any quarter, Frampton's goal came on a two-way relay from wing-mates Bert Herschfeld and Neal Langill.

Brandon was best served by goal-tender Ray Frederick and winger Angus Jucker.

ROYALS' SECOND IN 'PEO

The triumph was the second on Winnipeg ice for the easterners. They took the opener here a week ago 3-2. Brandon won the second encounter by the same score and the two clubs battled to a 3-3 tie at Brandon last Tuesday.

More than 5,000 fans hollered until the final whistle as the Brandon club, never giving up, swarmed in on the brilliant Bobby Bleau in the Montreal nets.

During the last five minutes of play their efforts, however, were in vain as passes either way went astray or Bleau slid out to stop them. The game followed much the same pattern as in the previous contests with Royals holding an edge in the first period and Brandon in the second. But the Wheat Kings, outplayed in the third period of the other games, showed at their best in the last frame last night.

ONLY 10 PENALTIES

Only 10 penalties were handed by referees Morrison and Locking despite heavy bodychecking and high flying sticks. Bill Allison of Brandon and Roland Rousseau of Royals were the only men to sit out twice.

The game featured two penalties, one to each club, for having too many men on the ice at one time. Two double penalties also were awarded.

Royals' goal came after Brandon had driven into the Montreal end only to be stopped at the defence. Herschfeld picked up the puck and started down the ice, followed closely by Langill and Frampton. At the Brandon defence he flipped the puck to Langill who in turn passed to Frampton. The smart-weaving captain gave Frederick no chance on his drive to the lower right corner of the net.

LINE-UPS:

Officials — Bill Morrison, Oshawa, Ont.; Norm Locking, Port Elgin, Ont.

SUMMARY:

First Period: Scoring—None. Penalties—Allison (2), Rousseau, Armstrong.

Second Period: Montreal, Frampton (Herschfeld, Langill) 9:41. Penalties —Manastersky, Chrystal, Moore, Rattray.

Third Period: Scoring—None. Penalties—Pawlyshyn, Rousseau.

Toronto Edges 'Peg In Junior Cage Title

TORONTO, May 6.—(CP)—Toronto Central YMCA took a hard-fought 43-41 decision over Winnipeg Light Infantry last night in the first game of their best-of-three series for the Canadian junior basketball championship.

The Toronto quintet led most of the way but the fast, hard-hitting Winnipeg team overcame a seven-point deficit in the final quarter to tie the game with three minutes to go. The score was 41-41 with a minute left in the game, when Ron Ridding sank both shots of a double foul to give Central Y the victory.

Toronto sank only five of their 19 foul shots; Winnipeg 15 of their 22.

About 400 spectators saw Winnipeg take an early four-point lead, only to be overtaken by the Torontonians who went ahead 12-11 in the closing moments of the first quarter. Toronto increased its lead and stayed ahead on the westerners by a steady four or five points until the final frame.

BROWNS TRADE AL ZARILLA TO RED SOX

ST. LOUIS, May 6.—(AP)—St. Louis Browns announced yesterday they have traded outfielder Al Zarilla to Boston Red Sox for outfielder Stan Spence "and a cash consideration."

The 28-year-old Zarilla lead Browns in hitting last year with an average of .329, and was fourth in that department in the American league. Spence, 34, batted .235 for Boston last year.

Bill Devitt, president of the Browns, said the deal was "an effort to give the Browns some additional power."

The amount of cash involved was not disclosed.

Open Season On Highlands As Inter-Club Golf Away

Knock off the Highlands!

This will be the cry down the line—except with the gang from Ada boulevard, of course—when the inter-club golf matches get underway at the week-end.

For the past several years the teams representing the Highlands have dominated inter-club play and the McMullen cup, emblematic of team play excellence, has become something of a permanent fixture of the organization whose affairs are so ably handled by Hugh Miller, Gar Lush, O. O. (Pem) Wood, professional Henry Martel and more.

When it comes time to fire the opening competitive shots of the local season Sunday morning, (barring president-vice-president competitions staged by one or two clubs) Highlands 'A' will be at home to Municipal 'A', with the 'B' squads clashing at Municipal.

Completing the picture Country Club 'A' will play host to Mayfair 'A', the 'B' teams going to it at Mayfair.

Team personnel follows:

HIGHLANDS VS. MUNICIPAL

10 TRAINERS BARRED FROM U.S. TRACK

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., May 6.—(UP)—The cases of nine racehorse trainers—one a woman—involved in wholesale suspensions on charges of doping their horses were turned over today to the West Virginia State Racing commission for further action.

All nine have been barred for six months by the Charlestown racetrack, where the alleged offenses occurred. A tenth trainer was also suspended by the Charlestown stewards on unannounced charges.

Who Says Olympia Is Tough?

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6.—(AP)—This fine old capital of the distillery belt is swellering in a heat wave as the diamond jubilee Kentucky derby draws nigh, and more and more horse owners are deciding to take a shot at Olympia in Saturday's $100,000 classic.

There is not necessarily any relation between the two incidents, though some experts contend it is abnormal for 13 owners to think they might beat Fred Hooper's far-striding favorite.

Unless Saturday's track is deep in mud, it is virtually certain that 14 will start.

Latest to succumb to the "Olympia can be beaten" urge is a woman owner and trainer named Mrs. Albert Roth, who lives in Louisville.

She announced yesterday her chestnut colt, Seneca's Coin, will run unless he breaks a leg before post time or unless there is heavy mud.

Seneca's Coin has run just twice in his sheltered life, and he hasn't been in the money yet.

It is estimated that he will go off at better than 100-to-1 against the cream of the country's three-year-olds.

Following are the probable starters, their jockeys and the odds:

Olympia	E. Arcaro	6-5
Capot	T. Atkinson	8-1
Wine List	D. Dodson	8-1
Palestinian	H. Woodhouse	8-1
Old Rockport	G. Glisson	15-1
Halt	C. McCreary	8-1
Johns Jr.	J. Adams	10-1
Ponder	S. Brooks	10-1
Ky. Colonel	No Boy	15-1
Model Cadet	O. Scurlock	20-1
Duplicator	B. James	20-1
Jacks Town	W. L. Taylor	20-1
Lextown	J. Richards	20-1
Seneca's Coin	No Boy	100-1

Approval Given For Mel Patton's Sprint Record

LONDON, May 6.—(CP)—Mel Patton's 9.3 seconds for 100 yards was approved yesterday by the International Amateur Athletic federation as the official world sprint record.

The University of Southern California star turned in his performance a year ago in a meet at Fresno, Calif.

Patton shared the old record of 9.4 seconds with Frank Wykoff, Jesse Owens and Clyde Jeffrey, all of the United States, and D. J. Jourbert of South Africa.

The International federation also accepted seven other records created in 1948.

Among these were 13.6 seconds for the 120-yard high hurdles by Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace College and 56 feet, 3-5 inch for the shot put by Charles Fonville of Michigan, both made at the 1948 Kansas relays.

Herb McKenley of Jamaica clipped 3/10ths of a second off his own world record when he stepped 440 yards in 46 seconds flat at Berkeley, Calif., last June and that mark was approved.

Before the thermometer was invented, physicians measured body heat with their hands.

Leafs Sign Seniors

TORONTO, May 6.—(CP)—Ray Hannigan and Bobby Robertson, who played last season with Toronto Marlboros in the senior OHA, have signed contracts with the parent Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey league, it was announced yesterday. They will be with the Leafs when fall training starts at St. Catharines, Ont.

PAT WEST, RADOVICH ARRIVE FROM SOUTH

Californians Pat West and Bill Radovich arrived from the south late yesterday to further swell the ranks of candidates for a spot on Annis Stukus' Western Conference grid machine.

Both will drill with the squad at Clarke Stadium tonight. Tom Fears, another from the Sunkist state, is believed en route and also might arrive in time to show his wares.

It was learned yesterday that Don Loney, Ottawa star who was dickering with the local squad, had decided to remain in the east.

Jim Milne's 1-Hitter Gives Singers Win

There may be some doubt as to which twin has the Toni, but there was no doubt last night as to which Milne look-alike threw a one-hitter at Anavets as Singers walked off with a 1-0 Senior Men's Fastball league victory at Kingsway.

It was twin Jim, railed one of Canada's top melon-ball hurlers, who all but closed the door in the face of Frank Pizzuto and his mates.

FRED PITCHER, TOO

Along with brother Fred, also a pitcher, Jim Milne, who comes from Saskatoon by way of Lethbridge, recently joined the Singer team for the new season, considerably boosting the chances of the 'cloth horses' for final honors.

Jim had difficulty only in the opening inning when, after one was out, he issued a pair of walks to Mick Checknita and Pizzuto and then let Ray Laiondebang a single into left field. However, Checknita was cut down at home plate as Ray Forrest unleashed a bulls-eye toss to catcher Fred Marie, averting the threatened tally.

Thereafter nary an Anavet got so far as second base and only two of them gained the gateway pylon.

The winning run came in the fourth inning when George Peltier cracked out a double to left field and scored a minute later on Don Harkness' booming triple to centre.

Those two hits were two-thirds of the total that Anavet loser Bob Wickland served up.

But where a paucity of runs featured the nightcap the same could not be said for the opener which saw Norwood Legion double the score with a 12-6 victory over Sparling Davis.

LOOK WHO'S HERE

Earl Elsey, who comes highly recommended as a football backfielder, was not too successful as the losing pitcher. Although he allowed just six hits he walked five and his mates made seven errors behind him. He blew one himself for good measure.

Second-sacker John Wandel led Norwood at the bat with three hits—two doubles and a triple—in four times at bat. A walk and an error put him on base five times out of five tries.

Further action is slated for Kingsway tonight when RCAF and Moose meet in a men's loop clash at 7:15 o'clock and South Side and Burns tangle in a women's circuit set-to. There will be no games Saturday.

LINESCORES:

Anavets	000 000 0—0	1 1
Singers	000 100 x—1	3 1

Wickland and Nadowski; J. Milne and Morie.

Norwood Legion	112 216 2—12	6 2
Sparling Davis	001 041 0—6	6 3

Dermak, Forsman (3) and Bonner; Elsey and Stewart.

Gehringer Named To Hall of Fame

NEW YORK, May 6.—(UP)—Charley Gehringer, whose deeds of diamond derring-do were usually written up in the tiny type of box scores, was on the inside of the hall of fame today, looking out at his one-time rivals who used to hog the headlines.

A solid election vote by the Baseball Writers Association of America finally gave the flawless Detroit Tiger second baseman the high honor that escaped him even at the height of his career.

And voted down by the writers were such publicized stars of Gehringer's day like Jimmy Foxx, Mel Ott, Dizzy Dean, Bill Terry, Bill Dickey and other Tiger greats like Hank Greenberg and Hank Heilmann.

Gehringer was so perfect a fielder that his greatest plays frequently drew little applause because he made them look so easy. At bat he steadily swatted his way to a lifetime batting average of .321 and in 1937 won the American league batting championship with a mark of .371.

It was in 1937 that the "mechanical man" of the Tigers was voted the league's "most valuable player," winning the award in a close vote over a young New York Yankee outfielder named Joe DiMaggio, then 22 years old.

Lacrosse Squads May Take To Air

VANCOUVER, May 6.—(CP)—Senior B lacrosse squads in the Vancouver area may become the first in Canada to utilize aircraft for transportation during the regular league schedule.

Negotiation with Queen Charlotte Airlines are being carried out to fly mainland teams to Nanaimo, B.C., for league games there, league president Ben Morley said yesterday.

Mid-Week Soccer Ban To Be Lifted

LONDON, May 6.—(Reuters)—The government ban on mid-week soccer, imposed as an emergency measure to prevent absenteeism of workers during the industrial recovery drive, will be lifted next season.

Lifting of the restriction means that next winter's cup competition will revert to normal. Extra time will not be necessary in the first matches when scores are even at the end of 90 minutes, and the majority of the replays will probably take place in mid-week.

TO PONOKA

Rev. E. J. Heuer and Rev. W. H. Hudapohl will conduct a meeting of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Ponoka at 8 o'clock tonight.

RETIRES TODAY

Today is not just the 65th birthday of Osias "Bob" Robert, of 9306 108 avenue. It marks for him the end of a 38-year career as an Edmonton woman. Yesterday for the last time he delivered mail on the route which has become as familiar as his own backyard, that from 127 street to 133 street, south of Stony Plain road.

FAIR WINNERS. Auburn Shelton and Dick Anderson, display their victors' plaques on the steps of North Edmonton school. Auburn, 12, carried off the literature shield at the boys' and girls' fair last week, and fellow pupil Dick, 13, topped entries to capture the arts plaque. Both winners are in grade 7 at North Edmonton which also won the fair cup for "highest aggregate points."

Young Girl Wins Trophy Second Time

By FRANCES GEDDES

Making a clean sweep of all classes she entered, Geraldine Mason last night captured the Mason & Risch Trophy in the open piano class at the Edmonton music festival.

She was given a total of 167 marks for two selections by Adjudicator Lawrence Cluderay.

She played pieces which contained great technical and interpretive difficulties but Mr. Cluderay thought she displayed excellent facility and control at the keyboard.

"One feels here there is a thinking person at the piano," he said.

Miss Mason placed first Wednesday in open Beethoven and Bach classes. This is the second year she has won the Mason & Risch Trophy.

Second in this class was Robert Picard with 162 marks. Mr. Cluderay praised him for being a "fluent player with tremendous keyboard facility—if lacking a little in control."

WINS AGAIN

Sherrill Lanyon repeated her performance of last year by again taking the McGibbon Trophy for open soprano and mezzo. With 167 marks, she was followed closely by Verna Weaver with 166. Lorraine Purdon was third with 160 ...

All three singers have excellent voices according to the adjudicator.

Roy Gilley won the Dey Trophy for open tenor, baritone and bass and Mr. Cluderay was enthusiastic about his "exceptionally promising voice." He warned him against his tendency to be tense when on stage. He was awarded 160 marks. Second was Thomas J. Davies with 158.

Winner of the CPRN Trophy for open contralto was Betty Sandergarth with 160 marks. Sadie McDonald was second with 159. Mr. Cluderay said the winner had a voice with rich promise in it. He liked the fine quality of Miss McDonald's upper notes.

OPEN LIEDER

Verna Weaver and Betty Sims won the open lieder class with 83 marks. Clement Schroeter and Betty Muter were given 81.

Outstanding performer in the afternoon was Wendy Joy Bayerott who was first with 168 marks in the violin class for 11 and under. Mr. Cluderay said her playing was "the best string playing I have heard since I came here."

He said there was a great deal of refinement in her tone and good variety of style. "She had great promise."

Promising players were entered in the piano class for nine-year-olds and under. Doreen Green was first with 167 marks. Lois Dean was second with 166. Both pianos were praised for their lovely sounds.

Zonia Thachuk was first in the Intermediate Bach class with 85 marks. Mr. Cluderay thought her selection was "beautifully phrased." He liked the high degree of her finger control.

Penny Wright was first in junior Bach. She was given 80 marks.

Frank Dunnigan won the violin class for 10 years and under with 165 marks, followed by Terrace Wisponski with 162.

Nine-year-old violinist class was won by Evan Verchomin with 165 marks.

In grade ten eight playing, Marilyn Tupper was given 84 marks.

Crippled War Veteran Will Marry in East

Romance between a partially paralized Edmonton war veteran and a Montreal medical technician will cultimate in marriage shortly.

War-injured former RCAF air observer, Pierre Garlepy, who has been in Col. Mewburn hospital here since 1945, left Wednesday for Montreal, where he will marry Geraldine Brown.

The Edmontonian was seriously injured when his bomber crashed in England in 1944 on return from operation over Germany.

Two years ago he was guest of Maple Leaf Hockey Club Manager Connie Smythe, for a hockey game at Maple Leaf Gardens which several paraplegics from various parts of Canada were invited to see.

While in the east the Edmonton airman visited Montreal and there met Miss Brown, a cancer technician. Miss Brown visited Edmonton last summer, and marriage plans were announced.

The couple will be married at Montreal and will honeymoon at Jasper, returning to Edmonton to live.

Mr. Garlepy has been editor of the hospital newspaper and has worked as a switchboard operator for the Red Cross blood transfusion service while he was in hospital.

Bikes Show Big Increase

It may be protest against increased transit system fares, or it may be the present fine weather that has resulted in a flood of applications for bicycle licenses.

Bicycle licenses issued by the city during the final four months of this year are almost double the total for the same period of 1948.

To April 30 this year there were 9,351 bicycle licenses issued compared with 4,811 for the same period last year, an increase of 4,540.

The city's dog population also appeared to be considerably increased over last year.

In the first four months of this year there were 5,355 dog licenses issued compared with 2,562 for the period ended April 30, 1948, an increase of 1,793.

General licenses issued in the 1949 period totalled 6,817 compared with 6,199 for the four months' period last year.

Revenue collected by the department in the first four months of this year amounted to $36,884.15 compared with $37,167 for the same period last year, an increase of $11,717.15.

Even Phone Calls Feel Boom Effect

Long-Distance Traffic Up Over 190 Per Cent Since 1940

By Pat McVean

Growing pains of Edmonton's current boom are extending to the city's long-distance telephone service.

Number of long distance calls over Edmonton-Calgary circuits has jumped 190 per cent over 1940, with 56 per cent of the increase occurring since 1945.

The seven circuits which handled telephone calls between the two cities in 1940 have been increased to 21, with eight of the new circuits added since 1945.

Meanwhile one direct Edmonton-Winnipeg circuit and three direct circuits between Edmonton and Vancouver have been added to handle this traffic which was previously carried over lines from Edmonton to Calgary.

EVEN MORE

W. B. Ferguson, deputy minister of telephones for Alberta, said today that several additional Edmonton-Calgary circuits will be installed within the next few months to handle the increased traffic.

With more than 1,100 messages a day being carried by long-distance telephone between Edmonton and Calgary, delays of from 30 minutes to one hour are necessary before calls can be placed on busy days, he said.

Installation of new circuits is expected to speed calls which, to date this year, have increased substantially in number as compared with traffic during the same period in 1948.

New automatic toll board for Edmonton is also planned, and will be put into service by the first of next year, Mr. Ferguson said.

CN Bunk Car Is Destroyed

A CNR bunk car was completely destroyed and a water tower damaged when fire broke out at Gibbons, early this morning.

The fire started in the bunk car of a train on its way to Edmonton. To stop the fire, the car was pulled to a water tower in Gibbons.

The car was empty at the time although the clothes and belongings of the trainmen who slept there, were completely destroyed.

The water tower caught fire from the burning car, and Gibbons residents notified the Edmonton fire department, which sent rigs to the scene.

The fire started at 2 a.m., lasted until 4 a.m.

Nylon moulding powders now come in 14 colors for manufacture of plastic articles such as combs and toothbrush handles.

School Band Thrills Large City Audience

Proud kinfolk and hundreds of others gathered in Westglen High school auditorium last night to see 140 Edmonton sons and daughters in the 23rd presentation of the Edmonton Schoolboys' Band.

The sons kind of had the edge, it being a boys' band, but there were six pink-kneed majorettes and three handsomemen to uphold the girls' side of things.

The ESB will present its program again tonight and Saturday night at Westglen.

The program varied, from rousing marches to boogie woogie and Irish songs. Divided into three parts, it started with the junior band of 80 boys.

Their bandmaster, O. W. Murray, announced to the audience that 40 of the lads have been playing just since last October and have been practicing with the band for only the last two months.

After the juniors came the senior band, playing more difficult numbers and then the juniors and seniors combined forces to play half a dozen numbers as a massed band. T. V. Newlove conducted.

The smart-looking majorettes executed routines during each of the band sections of the program, ending up with a very nifty routine done in darkness with lighted batons. I wish it were possible for the girls and their instructor, Miss E. Harloff, to teach 20 or 30 other city girls some of the same stuff; they could perk up a lot of civic functions more than somewhat.

Names of the majorettes were Dora Young, Leone Yule, Betty Spencer, Doreen Munroe, Barbara Bastand and Gloria Myers. The three girls among all those boys were Grace Powell for the bassoon and Jane Patterson and Joyce Buckles (bells and vibraphone).—R.W.S.

Unclaimed Money

CALGARY—(CP)—In the local district offices of the income tax division there are 5,681 unclaimed refundable savings cheques, with an estimated value of $227,240. Edmonton office has 5,770 unclaimed cheques worth approximately $230,800.

BOY MISSES SODA IN BRANDY-SODA

PAWTUCKET, R.I., May 6.—(AP)—A teacher called police because one of her pupils, a 10-year-old boy, was "too happy."

Police took the boy to hospital, where he passed out. When he later revived, he explained that he had wanted some soda with his luncheon and, his parents being away from home, he drank a glass of stuff from the bottle labelled "B-R-A-N-D-Y."

Said Sgt. Peter Hughes, school officer: "how in hell did he manage to gulp down a whole glassful."

FORCEFUL CHARACTER of Edmonton's Music Festival being held here this week is Lawrence Cluderay of Calgary, who, in his critic h'is come in for more than a fair share of abuse. Mr. Cluderay's adjudications of Edmonton and district artists is one of festival highlights. —Photo by Bland.

Peace Country Holds Great Music Future

By Frances Geddes

He's been in plenty of hot water because of it, but Lawrence Cluderay is still a man who'll stick to his guns and call a flat note a flat note.

Calgary music critic, choir director, teacher and organist, Mr. Cluderay is in Edmonton this week adjudicating the Edmonton Musical Festival.

'Tis well known just what wrath may descend on the head of a music critic who hears faults inaudible to the average audience—and has the temerity to mention them.

This appears to be one of Mr. Cluderay's common failings.

He doesn't just criticize the artists either. Even the audience is liked to be on the receiving end of his barbs. Once, he directed a critical gem at Calgary women who knitted or crocheted during concerts.

He wanted to know if they went faster during the rapid parts of a song and slower with the rallentandos.

It didn't do a bit of good, he says ruefully. They still knit.

Of course, this wouldn't be necessary if everyone showed the same enthusiasm as Mr. Cluderay found last year in the Peace River country.

When he was adjudicating there, the weather was bad. Many of the contestants couldn't come by car or truck to the festival centre, so they walked many miles to be there.

In one family, he heard three members playing in a piano class. The mother apologized for their playing and explained that there had been no teacher in their district so they had to prepare their pieces by themselves.

"There's a future for music in that country," Mr. Cluderay says.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Beef Tenderloin Is Tremendous Price

By Bea Thrifty

Husband has been pouting for days. I've finally discovered his problem. He wants to know why we never have a dinner of beef tenderloin steak.

Well husband dear . . . at $1.40 a pound . . . we'll continue to NOT HAVE beef tenderloin steaks.

Myself thinks this an outlandish price for a piece of steak. I admit it is good . . . but heavens . . . you should be able to buy a whole cow for this money.

• • •

I'm feeling as smug as smug can be about bargains today. This not-so-secret smile of satisfaction concerns a deal about fresh field tomatoes.

I hate to brag girls . . . but I bought two pounds for 25c.

Now this is indeed a gem 'cause they were well-shaped, firm and not too ripe.

I saw some of the too-ripe . . . slightly marked ilk selling at three pounds for 25c.

Another lot of larger tomatoes sell for 25c per pound, and some at 20c.

• • •

Goodie, new vegetables such as leeks, asparagus, cabbage, cauliflower (at 29c per pound) please the palate as well as the eye.

• • •

Rhubarb, the field variety, has come as I so craftily predicted and is selling at 15c per pound in some stores; two pounds for 25c in others.

• • •

These summer warm-up days one gets the urge to resist the hot ol' stove, turning more and more to table-ready meats, in tins and in delicatessan departments.

The few delicatessen sections we have in the city are blossoming out these days with goodies like barbecue loaf at 32c per half pound; corned beef at 35c per half pound; ham and chicken baked in old country fashion with a thick pastry crust, sold in slices for 33c per half pound; baked beans, baked lima beans.

• • •

A splendid newie is delicatessen-cooked ham . . . sold by slice, whole or piece. It sells at 39c per half pound and is simply delicious, baked with cloves and garnished with maraschino cherries.

It has more succulent flavor than the packer-cooked variety of cooked ham.

• • •

Sweet hour of tea-time when I indulge in tasty sandwiches and a fine, tangy gherkin pickle. . . .

I have an almost abnormal fondness for gherkins and so I was most happy to see sweet gherkins selling in tiny cheese-glass size jars for 25c. These were the very small pickles and completely delicious. Packed tightly, the pickles numbered around 26 per jar.

Larger editions of same delicious pickles sell at 28c and 35c per jar.

• • •

I s'pose you knew you could buy tinned bologna now . . . and tinned corned beef hash for 37c, corned beef loaf, spiced beef and chopped beef . . . all in tins.

What next!

This frolicsome twosome, Nancy Saunders and Abigail Adams, combine exercise and fun to keep fit and pretty, along with a dose of good old fresh air and sunshine.

WHY GROW OLD

Underweight Problems Handicaps to Beauty

By Josephine Lowman

I have not written much about underweight lately and several wistful letters have prompted me to give a resume today to help those girls and women who need more pounds.

At this time of year especially, with swim suits in the offing, women become more conscious of the handicaps to beauty which underweight produces.

1. Get plenty of sleep—lots of it.

2. Do not try to stuff yourself with all sorts of rich foods. Be sure that you have plenty of vitamins and minerals in your diet. Add a little more butter and a few more cream sauces than your fat sister but do not neglect the fresh fruits and vegetables. Drink at least a quart of whole milk daily. Add a little cream to a couple of glasses. You may find it better to consume five small meals daily rather than three big ones.

3. Take bust and calf developing exercises and deep breathing exercises.

4. Take vitamin B capsules daily. Ask your doctor what kind and how many.

5. Get outdoors. Do not indulge in the more strenuous sports but take swimming and walking, ping-pong, and bicycle riding to your heart.

6. Do not hurry. Great amounts of energy are wasted in this way.

7. Do not worry.

8. If possible, arrange for two little rest periods during each day.

Soon you will be writing me to know how to reduce!

If you would like to have my leaflet which gives you my Nine-Day Gaining Diet and Hints for Women who Wish to Gain Weight, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 41. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

PEANUT BUTTER ORANGE COOKIES

Sift together on to piece of waxed paper: 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour; ¾ teaspoon baking soda; ½ teaspoon baking powder; ¼ teaspoon salt.

In medium-size bowl cream together: ½ cup peanut butter; ½ cup shortening; 1 tablespoon grated orange rind.

Gradually add, creaming in well: ½ cup granulated sugar, ½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed. Add and beat until mixture is smooth: 1 egg. Add dry ingredients alternately with ¼ cup orange juice.

Cover bowl; chill dough thoroughly. Turn on oven and set regulator at moderate (375 deg. F).

Shape chilled dough into balls about size of walnuts; place balls about 2 inches apart on lightly greased cooky sheets. With floured fork flatten balls into rounds forming crisscross pattern. Bake 10 to 12 minutes, or until cookies are lightly browned. Makes about 6 dozen cookies.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Woman Fears Expense Of Rearing Children

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married for several years and my husband is very anxious that we have a family, but I do not want any children.

In the first place, they cost too much to rear and, in the second place, they are very likely to turn out badly and bring nothing but misery to their parents.

Would you say that children are worth while? MRS. X. Y. Z.

ANSWER: The woman who refuses to have children robs herself. She robs her husband and she robs her country. She cheats on Nature. If she did not mean to give her husband children, then she had no right to marry.

Children are worth while for many reasons. First, they are one's greatest pleasure. Seeing a little child's mind develop is the most fascinating sport that you will ever engage in, and if you miss that, you will have cut yourself out of a world of entertainment and happiness.

Then, children are worth while because they give you an interest in life.

When you get along toward middle-age and have come to the point where you are not so keen about having or doing the things you used to, then you begin living life over again in your children.

You will get lots more kick out of giving your youngsters the good things of life than you ever did from buying things for yourself.

Listen to mothers brag about their daughters' beaux. Listen to fathers boast of the successes their sons are making.

They still have an interest in life, something vital that childless people do not have.

TIE THAT BINDS

Children are worth while because they are the real tie that binds a husband and wife together. Many a woman's hold on her husband is through her children.

And if a husband and wife really love each other, then the children make them truly one, because they are bound together by a million hopes and fears and ambitions they have shared.

And children pay even in a financial sense. How many old parents there are who but for their children would be on charity. And look about you and see the old parents whose children are making their last days sweet with their care and devotion. Oh, yes, there is no doubt that children are definitely worth while.

SANDWICH SPREADS

In small bowl blend: ½ cup peanut butter; ½ cup grated raw carrot; ¼ cup diced celery; ¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing.

Or: ½ cup peanut butter; ½ cup chili sauce.

Or: ½ cup peanut butter; ½ cup orange marmalade.

Or: ½ cup peanut butter; 2 slices cooked bacon, crumbled; 1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish.

Or: ½ cup peanut butter; ½ medium-size apple, diced; ¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Teaching Toddlers Requires Patience

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

When the small child, just walking, graduates from the playpen, he is certain to get into mischief. Everything within reach is an object to be handled, licked, bitten and even cast on the floor, as he handles his own toys.

Until a child gets used to his freedom it is better for him and for the mother if the fragile and breakable objects are put out of reach. If there are too many things which he cannot touch he will soon become deaf to the voice saying "No, no."

Her policy should be to avoid emotionalism. She has to say, "no, no," to some things, and she should make it easier for the baby to leave them alone by offering him quickly something he can have. The things he can't touch are Mother's. The things he can have are his. They should be handed him with the attitude that here is something he is really going to enjoy.

A mother who allows her child the privilege of touching her possessions, under her supervision, soon finds the child loses interest in them.

Not even the smartest baby is going to learn all he needs to know in a minute. But as he learns, one by one the objects come back into place and very soon the room looks just the same as if no baby lived there.

But just because baby does live there he should have some privileges too. It's nice to allow the baby to play in one or two kitchen cupboards if he leaves the rest alone. One or two drawers of a desk or a dresser might well contain some things the baby likes and he have the right to [illegible] them and take them out. It is the freedom to act as he pleases most of the time which makes it possible for the baby to avoid those [illegible] which are so upsetting to parents.

Our leaflet No. 73, "How to Manage the Child," deals with a child's natural curiosity. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

POPULAR EDMONTON COUPLE Kathleen Renwick Huff and her fiance Dr. Douglas Campbell Ritchie are planning a May 28 wedding. The announcement of the engagement was made recently by Miss Huff's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Huff. Dr. Ritchie is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Malcolm Ritchie of Nelson, B.C. The wedding will take place at Robertson United Church.

Lois Doreen Callihan Becomes Bride In Pretty Ceremony at St. Joseph's

St. Joseph's Cathedral was the scene of a pretty wedding recently, when Lois Doreen Callihan became the bride of Herbert (Mack) Grimes, Rev. Fr. Reynolds officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Callihan, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyriex Grimes, all of Edmonton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown, styled with a taffeta bodice and a skirt of net over taffeta. A chapel veil was caught to her head with a beaded headdress and she wore net mittens. She carried a white prayer book, adorned with a spray of red roses and stephanotis.

Miss Leora Grimes attended her brother's bride. Her pink taffeta gown was complemented by a matching chapel veil and lace mittens. She carried a nosegay of yellow carnations and mauve iris.

Pieces of the bride, Joan Callihan and Sharon Eberhardt, were flower girls. They wore frocks of net over pink and blue taffeta, with matching mittens. Pink and blue carnations comprised their nosegays.

John Doran was best man and the guests were ushered by Harold and Vern Callihan, brothers of the bride.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. I. Olsen, who played and sang Ave Maria and Panis Angelicus.

Reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The mother of the bride and the mother of the bridegroom assisted in receiving the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Callihan chose a grey gabardine suit with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Grimes wore a printed silk dress, complemented by black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Reception rooms were decorated with spring flowers and the bride's table was hung with pink and white streamers.

1,756 Nurses In Registry

Alberta Association of Registered Nurses has 1,755 actively registered nurses. This was announced at a recent council meeting of the AARN by Mrs. Clara Van Dusen, provincial registrar.

It was further announced that there are 766 associate members and 606 inactive members.

During October 1948, 2,782 letters were sent to all non-practising members notifying them of two new types of non-practising memberships, associate and inactive.

Since then 429 former inactive members have been granted associates, while 528 members have remained inactive.

Health League Holds Closing Tea Party

Tea was held by members of the Edmonton Health and Strength League at the home of Mrs. D. Almas recently to mark the close of activities for the season.

Presentations were made to Mrs. D. Almas, instructress, and Mrs. P. B. Maney, pianist. More than 20 guests attended the tea.

Among those assisting the hostess were Mrs. M. Healy, Mrs. M. Jones, Mrs. J. Caldwell, Mrs. M. Lynn, Mrs. A. Scott, Jessie Young and Dorothy Almas.

Marriage Bureau Business Booms In Modern World

LONDON, May 6.—(CP) — Although one in every nine marriages in Britain ends in divorce, London marriage bureaus say they are enjoying a boom comparable to that which prevailed at the end of the war.

Heather Jenner, principal of one, said the reason might be that "in a world that is unsettled politically and economically, single people feel the need of a partner.

"It is probably a sign of the times, too, that women applicants nowadays are more insistent on the stability of a man's job."

Women of 25 to 30 form the largest age group and most of them "seek men of 40 and over who are well-established in business or professional life."

Other agencies report a marked increase in the number of women waiting to go to Canada and Australia as brides.

Opening Dinner at Country Club Held in Flower-Decked Clubhouse

Mrs. Thomas G. Morris received the guests at the opening dinner for the ladies of the Edmonton Country Club, which was held Wednesday in the clubhouse.

In charge of arrangements for the annual affair were Mrs. A. H. Huffman, entertainment convener, assisted by Mrs. H. McMahon, Mrs. A. B. Corcoran and Mrs. S. Cook.

Talisman roses and shaded tapers decorated the head table, where Mrs. Morris presided.

Mrs. Donald Brown, sports captain, outlined the various competitions to be held throughout the year. Mrs. Morris announced that the ladies' city tournament will be held at the Country Club the week beginning June 20. Mrs. J. Ernest Robinson, convener for Tuesday luncheons, announced that a swing group will be held every Tuesday, followed by luncheon and a competition in the afternoon.

Spoons won in last year's competitions were presented to Mrs. H. V. Allan and Mrs. Donald Brown.

Mrs. Eve Henderson Scores Again With Another Award

Special award winner, Mrs. Eve Henderson, is as proud as can be these days.

Mrs. Henderson, radio's Helen Kent, has won another notch in continent-wide acclaim. This time she has been honored by the Women's Advertising Club of St. Louis, Missouri who sponsored a contest for the best publicity work of the year.

Mrs. Henderson's claim to the award came through her tremendous and successful efforts with Edmonton Friendship Club.

This, off the beaten track from strict advertising publicity, nevertheless impressed the judges. It impressed them so much they created a special category for Mrs. Henderson's entry.

So next Wednesday our clever Eve wings her way to St. Louis to be dined, wined and honored by the St. Louis people. She will be guest of the Women's Advertising Club there.

The presentation will be made May 13.

GUESTS at the Macdonald hotel for a few days are Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Farrish of Montreal.

• • •

BUSY SUMMER is in store for Mrs. H. J. Wilson who plans to leave shortly for Toronto where she will visit her daughter Patricia, whose graduation from the Toronto General Hospital School of Nursing takes place May 26.

Later Mrs. Wilson will visit daughter Betty, Mrs. T. H. Sewob in New York and continue to Quebec city to see third daughter Joan Mrs. W. B. Jackson.

From there she will go to Montreal, where she will join Mr. Wilson and sail for England on the Empress of Canada.

Twelve Hour Service For Nurses, Doctors

Community Service Organized in 1948 Works for Convenience of Patients

Twelve hour service is maintained by the Nurses' and Doctors' Community Service of Edmonton. The service which is available to all Edmontonians operates from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

Organized in 1948 Community Service is of value to doctors, nurses and to the community.

Information regarding the names of nurses on call during the night may be obtained by contacting city hospitals. The present staff consists of a director, assistant director and a relief worker.

Office space and telephone service has been provided by the city. Each of the city hospitals pays $20 a month in the service.

Other financial assistance has been obtained from the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses, Edmonton District No. 7: Institutional Nurses, public health nurses, nurse placement service, and a draw sponsored by the Nurses' and Doctors' Community Service.

When the community service was organized in 1948 it provided 24 hour service but after five months the service modified to sixteen hours. Night calls were taken by the hospitals.

Further modification in the hours of service was made in January of 1949 when the present 12 hour service was introduced.

Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday commences and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY, MAY 7, 1949.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Good work can be accomplished today, particularly if you dodge confusion and play up the happy angles. Be just what you ask, and expect others to be, and you should progress.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Better prospects than you suppose, especially for family matters. Don't let confusion worry you. Don't live on links out of proportion with your time and ability.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—You can make worthwhile progress in undertakings now without undue worry. Personal recipients generally favored. Don't let your heart rule your head.

June 22 to July 21 (Cancer)—Don't overlook opportunities for personal improvement. Be willing to change your routine when necessary. Be sure you're not overlooking any worthwhile business tips.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Aspects very favorable. Travel, ideas and trade contracts can be carried in fine manner. There may be no dearth of friends (plus you will welcome). You will like to move; be not too fast.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Excellent financial outlook for the alert, smart business man. However, proceed carefully where in doubt, and control emotions. Personal desires favored in part.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Much can be had of this day with right approach and method. Fine advantages in business, private interests. Home, family, artistic affairs and work offer new pleasure. Heed your conscience.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—All wholesome and useful activities, healthy sports and recreation and the more real and artistic matters favored. Don't be overly enthusiastic, strain health.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Not all auspicious, especially for quick monetary returns where you can exert both, but day on whole encourages, favors due recreative, social and generally essential matters.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricornus)—Right combination for activities you like and profession or trade for which you are apt, trained. Should offer gratifying returns for earnest effort. Have some good fun, too.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—You were not left out of the auspicious influences so general today. Whatever your plans, don't waste this fine period on pointless ventures, nor with unworthy associates.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Promising, eventful and mind-be a fruitful day. Good deeds and purposeful action will return many benefits. Build good will. Take advantage and enter into healthful recreation.

You Born Today—Practical yet artistic. Generally capable, tenacious, dependable, sincere sort of friend one can commune in confidence with, one can receive understanding, sympathy. Natural aptitude for building, mechanics; can calm, soothe those in trouble or under emotional strain. This, of course, if you are living true to your fine God-given characteristics. Never permit lack of faith in God or in yourself. Pray earnestly—daily—and allow serenity where difficulties and disappointments appear. Outdoor recreation and gardens always restful for Taureans. Birthdate: Robert Browning, poet; Constance Bennett, actress; Jean Sibelius, famous music composer.

Georgie Booth Is Elected President

Georgie Booth was installed as president of Gamma Chapter Beta Sigma Phi at the recent installation of officers.

Other officers installed were Isobel Smith, vice-president, Irene Lind, recording secretary, Charlotte Frederking, corresponding secretary and Dorothy Lowes, treasurer.

Guests of honor at the ceremony were Mrs. Phillip Jean and Mrs. M. Mallett.

BISCUIT ROLY-POLY

Turn on oven and set regulator at hot (450 deg. F).

Grease loaf pan, 9 x 5 x 3. In small bowl blend until smooth; reserve: 1/3 cup peanut butter; 1/3 cup honey; 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind; 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Into medium-size bowl sift: 2 cups all-purpose flour; 3 teaspoons baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt. With 2 knives or pastry blender, cut in until the texture of coarse corn meal: ¾ cup shortening. Add all at once, stirring to blend only: 2/3 cup milk.

Lightly floured board or pastry cloth roll dough into rectangle about 7 x 10. Spread with reserved peanut butter mixture. Roll up, jelly-roll fashion, starting at one of short sides. Place, seam side down, in prepared pan. Make several crisscross cuts on top.

Bake 25 minutes or until golden brown. Turn out of pan; slice; serve hot. Makes 1 loaf.

Why Take Chances? Think Before Play

By William E. McKenney

Once again the old ticker caught up with me, and I was taken to the hospital in Washington, D.C. While there my attending physician, Dr. Walter K. Myers, introduced me to Dr. John N. Shadid and his little black box.

Ordinarily, blood tests and laboratory techniques are all great mysteries to me, the same as bridge is to some people. But Dr. Shadid's little black box appealed to my engineering knowledge.

He is working on a new technique for measuring the viscosity of the blood, and if his method can be developed, it looks to me as if a great many coronary thromboses may be avoided.

While giving me a word of advice on how to take care of my heart, Dr. Shadid also implied a good bridge lesson. A man with heart trouble, he said, should think a minute before he attempts to do anything. If he does this, he will save himself a lot of effort and complications.

That lesson applies very well to today's hand. The opponents won the first two club tricks and declarer trumped the third club. He could afford to lose one more trick, a spade or a diamond. The average person might say that one of the finesses should win, but if you stop and think, for a minute, you do not have to take that chance.

Cash the ace of hearts and ruff a small heart in dummy. Lead a spade and go right up with the ace, then ruff your last heart. At this point you simply lead a trump and West is in. If he leads a club or a heart, you can trump and discard. If he leads a diamond, it gives you a free finesse.

Naughty, Naughty! Clergyman Frowns At Bare Shoulders

BARKING, Essex, England, May 6.—(CP)—Brides in Essex who may be thinking of choosing wedding dresses which begin below the shoulders have been warned by Rev. W. F. Chadwick, who marries 500 couples a year at St. John's Church.

Even when bare bridal shoulders are covered with net the clear still is not happy about them.

"Low-cut dresses are not suitable for wearing in church," he said.

A fashion expert said the trend towards dual purpose clothes is responsible for low-cut wedding dresses.

"Brides who wear them usually plan to turn them into evening dresses," he said.

Home Economist Okays Table-Ready Meat Dishes

By Jane Scott

For too long women have served table-ready meats with apology rather than pride.

This says home economist Marjorie Ellis, cuts down menu possibilities and economy opportunities.

Miss Ellis is in Edmonton while on tour of Canada, illustrating what a clever homemaker can do with prepared meats.

PLATTER DINNERS

French-style platter dinners, with meats and vegetables attractively arranged with garnishing score top marks for buffet-style entertaining, quick luncheons, and homey suppers.

Meats make the meal . . . but the arrangement and presentation helps tremendously, said Miss Ellis.

The lowly frankfurter has graduated with honors into the aristocracy and hostesses serve them with a smile now.

DINNER DISH

A main-dish goodie recommended by Miss Ellis is ½-inch thick slices of table-ready meat, glazed with brown sugar or pineapple juice and popped into the oven to heat and brown into the delicious, attractive glaze of baked ham.

This served on a platter with corn niblets, asparagus or cauliflower will delight any hard-to-please husband, laughed Miss Ellis.

FOR MEN ONLY

For husband's poker party, a tray of assorted meats, arranged in pattern with variety of texture, flavor, color and size augmented with design and the help of radish-rose garnishes will make the "little woman" a success.

HOME - ECONOMIST Marjorie Ellis is visiting in Edmonton, while on tour of Canada helping homemakers.

Concrete and cement are not synonymous—cement is just one of the ingredients of concrete.

Fruit Breads Score For Lunch-Box Sandwiches

Ask anyone who carries a lunch to school or work everyday what he wants most and he's likely to say "Fresh Sandwiches."

And he really means the "fresh". Nothing is quite so unappetizing as a dry sandwich. And since you can't rely on a very moist filling (for it soaks the bread when it stands), the best answer to a really good sandwich is fresh, tasty bread.

For variety try a good fruit or nut bread. The natural moisture of the fruits and the oils in nuts will keep these breads fresh much longer. As you know, a thin spreading butter or cream cheese is the only filling needed with a flavorful bread. This trio will give you a lunch-box choice.

* * *

FRUIT BRAN BREAD

1 egg, 2/3 cup molasses or honey, 1½ cups ready to eat bran, 1 cup buttermilk, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon soda, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ cup chopped figs, ½ cup chopped dates, ½ cup raisins, ½ cup chopped nutmeats.

Beat well; add molasses, bran and buttermilk. Sift flour with salt, baking powder and soda; add to first mixture with fruits and nutmeats. Stir only until flour disappears. Bake in greased loaf pan with waxed paper in the bottom, in moderate oven (350 F.) about 1 hour. Yield: 1 loaf (4½x3½ inches).

SWEDISH TEA RING

½ recipe foundation sweet dough, melted butter or margarine, brown or granulated sugar, cinnamon, confectioners' sugar icing, ¼ cup chopped nuts.

When Foundation Sweet Dough is light, roll it out to a rectangular sheet about ½ inch thick, and three times as long as it is wide. Brush with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle generously with sugar and cinnamon. Roll up like jelly roll and seal edge firmly. Shape into ring on greased baking sheet, joining the ends. With scissors or sharp knife, cut through ring almost to the centre, in slices about 1 inch wide. Turn each slice slightly on its side. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Let rise until doubled in bulk (about 45 minutes). Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. When cool, frost with Confectioners' Sugar Icing and sprinkle with chopped nuts.

If desired, sprinkle granulated sugar and cinnamon on rolled out dough, adding nuts, chopped raisins, sliced dates, maraschino cherries—any or all. Then proceed as above. Makes 1 tea ring.

HONEY ORANGE BREAD

2 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup honey, 1 egg, 1½ tablespoons grated orange rind, 2½ cups sifted flour, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup orange juice, 1 cup ready to eat bran.

Blend shortening and honey; add egg and orange rind and beat well. Sift flour with baking powder, soda and salt and add to first mixture alternately with orange juice. Add bran. Pour into greased loaf pan and bake in slow oven (325 F.) for 1 hour and 10 minutes.

Yield: 1 loaf (5¼x9 1/3 inch pan).

Pretty Layer Cake In Tea-Table Treat

Hostesses Want Party-Pretty Cakes When Entertaining for Bride-Elects

By Jane Scott

There is no table treat so tasty as a really super cake!

For that gala shower you're planning, when everything must be super, prove your skill as an expert cake baker with the recipe for Bits Chocolate Cake. It's rich and chocolatey, and will melt in your mouth.

A truly good devil's food cake, topped with whipped cream chocolate frosting, is a dish to put before your very best company.

For a party, a food sale or the church supper, your reputation as a cake connoisseur will be enhanced if you produce the shredded wheat layer cake.

* * *

SHREDDED WHEAT LAYER CAKE

½ cup shortening, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, unbeaten, 1 2/3 cups sifted flour, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ¾ teaspoon, salt, 2 shredded wheat biscuits, finely rolled, ¾ cup milk.

Add sugar gradually to shortening and cream well. Add egg and beat. Sift together three times the flour, baking powder, nutmeg and salt. Add shredded wheat crumbs to flour and mix. Then add to creamed mixture, alternately with milk, mixing until smooth after each addition. Pour into two 8-inch greased layer pans and bake in moderate oven (375 F.) 25 minutes. Cool and ice with frosting preferred. Or put together with Fruit Filling or lemon filling and make design on top by placing paper doily on cake, sifting confectioner's sugar over it and lifting doily off.

* * *

BITS CHOCOLATE CAKE
(Makes two 8-inch layers)

One-third shortening, ¾ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 eggs, well-beaten, 1 package chocolate bits, melted, 1¾ cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sour milk.

Cream shortening, sugar and vanilla thoroughly. Add eggs and beat until light and fluffy. Stir in melted chocolate bits, which have been cooled. Mix and sift flour, soda and salt. Add to chocolate mixture alternately with milk and beat until smooth and well blended. Pour into two greased 8-inch layer cake pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Frost with bits marshmallow frosting and put butter cream filling between the layers.

Bits Marshmallow Frosting

Onelquarter cup butter, 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 1 package chocolate bits melted, 1/3 cup evaporated milk, dash of salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 8 marshmallows, quartered.

Cream butter with 1 cup sugar. Beat in melted chocolate bits which have been cooled. Add remaining sugar alternately with milk. Stir in salt and vanilla. Beat until smooth and creamy. Add marshmallows after frosting sides of cake.

Butter Cream Filling

Two tablespons softened butter, 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, dash of salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 to 2 tablespoons cream

Cream butter, sugar, salt and vanilla. Gradually add cream, continuing to beat until mixture is smooth and of spreading consistency. Spread between layers.

* * *

DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE

2¼ cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup butter or margarine, 2½ cups brown sugar, firmly packed, 3 eggs, 3 1-oz. sq unsweetened chocolate, ½ cup sour milk or buttermilk, 2 teaspoons vanilla extract, 1 cup boiling water

Start your oven at 375F or moderate. Grease bottoms and sides of 3 eight-inch cake pans and dust with flour. Sift cake flour, measure it carefully and sift again with soda and salt.

Cream or work butter or margarine in bowl (use your own clean hands, it's easier) until soft and airy. Then add sugar a little at a time and continue creaming until fluffy and light. Add unbeaten eggs, one at a time. Beat batter hard after the addition of each egg.

Put chocolate in measuring cup and melt over boiling water. When melted add to batter, using a scraper to get every bit of melted chocolate from the sides of the cup. Mix thoroughly.

Sift about 1/3 of the flour into batter, stir in well. Add about 1/3 of the sour milk or buttermilk and stir lightly. Repeat, ending with flour. Now mix in vanilla extract and boiling water.

Pour batter into greased cake pans and don't be alarmed at the thinness of the batter. Bake 25 to 30 minutes. Remove from oven and turn cakes upside down on a cake rack to cool.

When cool, spread frosting between layers and pile high on top of your cake. Cover sides. Sprinkle top generously with shaved bitter chocolate.

* * *

WHIPPED CREAM CHOCOLATE FROSTING

1½ cups heavy cream, ¼ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cocoa, ½ teaspoon vanilla extract.

Mix (do not whip) all your ingredients in a bowl. Set in your refrigerator to chill for 2 hours at least. Longer is OK. Then beat until mixture is so thick it holds its shape and will stand in peaks.

This makes enough frosting for top, sides and between layers of this 3-layer cake, even when you use a generous hand.

SOMETHING NEW and different in the way of a cake should always be welcome. Your reputation will be enhanced with a shredded wheat layer cake and you can count on compliments for texture, flavor and decoration.

Peanut Butter Makes Variety of Tasty Gems

Out of the jar and into these recipes goes peanut butter to make cookies, brownies, frosting, salad, bread and sandwich spreads.

You can use the smooth or crunchy kind of peanut butter.

SALAD

Slice in half lengthwise: 4 medium-size bananas; spread half of each banana with peanut butter. Put banana halves together; slice crosswise into 1-inch pieces. Brush with lemon juice.

Arrange on serving plate with: 1 grapefruit, sectioned; 2 oranges, peeled and sliced; 1 unpared red apple, cored and cut in wedges; water cress. Serve with French dressing. Serves 4.

PEANUT-BUTTER FROSTING

In medium-size bowl cream together: ½ cup peanut butter, ½ cup butter or margarine. Stir in: ½ teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon salt. Gradually add, creaming until smooth: 1½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar.

Makes enough frosting for tops of 1 dozen 2½-inch cupcakes.

PEANUT BUTTER BROWNIES

Turn on oven and set regulator at moderate (350 deg. F). Lightly grease baking pan, 8 x 8 x 2.

In medium-sized bowl blend: ½ cup peanut butter; ¼ cup shortening; ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Gradually add, creaming in well: 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed. Add, 1 at a time, beating in well: 2 eggs.

Blend into creamed mixture: ½ cup sifted all-purpose flour; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1 cup chopped nuts (walnuts, peanuts, pecans, almonds).

Spread batter in prepared baking pan. Bake 25 minutes, or until centre is firm when pressed with fingertip. Remove from oven; while hot cut into 2-inch squares; remove from pan; cool on wire cake rack. Makes 16 brownies.

BLACK WALNUT BRAN BREAD

2 cups sifted flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ½ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup black walnut meats, 1¾ cups ready to eat bran, 1 egg, well beaten, 1½ cups milk, 5 tablespoons melted shortening.

Sift flour, baking powder, sugar and salt together. Chop nutmeats coarsely and stir into dry ingredients together with bran. Add egg, milk and shortening and mix until well blended. Pour into greased loaf pan; bake one hour in a moderately hot oven (375 F.) covering with brown poper the first 20 minutes. When baked, store overnight before slicing. Bread crumbles if cut when it is too fresh. Yield: 1 loaf, 4¾x8¾ inches.

Youthful Pianists Thrill Audience

Adjudicator Has Praise For Young Aspirants Here

By Frances Geddes

Several promising Haydn and Mozart players were heard yesterday at the Edmonton Musical Festival.

"If you can play these two composers, you have a good all-round technique," Adjudicator Lawrence Cluderay told the fourteen youngsters.

As usual, no spectacularly high marks were given.

Joan de Winter won the class for 15 years and under with a total of 164 marks for two selections.

Mr. Cluderay said absolute detail in phrasing was necessary in Mozart playing and the person with the most detail would be at the top of his class.

Second place went to Shirley Tanner with only one mark less than the winner.

FIRST SPOT

Doreen Carse, with 164 marks, was first in the piano class for 12-year-olds and under. Second was Pierre Turgeon with 163.

Haydn's Allegro in F was one of the test pieces. Mr. Cluderay said the speed with which each pianist tackled the number should depend on his ability to make the necessary leaps from one chord to another.

"After all," he said, "the speed of a convoy is geared to the speed of the slowest tub in the group."

First place in the piano class for 14 and under went to Leona and Barbara Burkham with 162.

Pianist Penny Wright was first in the class for 13-year-olds and under. She was given 160 marks and praised for her "fine pedalling of Mozart."

Second was Betty Robertson with 159, followed by Donna Wallin with 157.

PRESIDENT of the United Kingdom Board of Trade Harold Wilson is to visit Edmonton shortly. While here he will hold trade discussions with local businessmen, and address a dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. His arrival in the city is scheduled for May 20.

Shriners' Circus Coming To Town

Top-notch performers in the big top come to Edmonton May 23-28 with the return of the Shrine Circus, sponsored by the Rotary and Shrine Clubs. There will be eight performances nightly through the week in the arena, and matinees on Tuesday, May 24 and Saturday, May 28.

All the fun of the fair will be here, with performing sea lions, ring ponies and elephants as well as aerialists and tight rope walkers.

Proceeds will go to humanitarian work of the Edmonton Shrine and Rotary Clubs. James Long is chairman of the circus.

Develop Goldfields

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa —(CP)— Development of Orange Free State goldfields is proceeding rapidly. At present 14 shafts are being sunk in an area of about 150 square miles.

Soil Drifting Hampers Seed

Northern Alberta farmers with a wary eye on the cloudless sky and another at wild oats sprouting in their fields have not been rushing seed into the ground this spring.

Department of agriculture officials said soil drifting in Alberta, while serious in some districts, had not yet assumed the disastrous proportions it has in parts of Saskatchewan.

It was explained seeding is being delayed by farmers who hope for rain to start their crops and who also hope to encourage the growth of wild oats, so that they may be killed before the seed goes into the ground.

Farmers who have worked their land this spring without regard to prevailing winds and dry weather are suffering the consequences of their work in that their soil is blowing away.

Enlarge Harbor

MADRAS, India—(CP)—The Indian government has a $15,00,000 plan to extend the harbor here. Completion of the extension would take from four to five years and enable the harbor to cope with five times the present traffic.

City Labor Man Sends Further Protest to Ottawa

GOVERNMENT NAMES THREE ASSISTANTS

Three assistant district agriculturists have been appointed to aid DA's in Alberta, Hon. David A. Ure, minister of agriculture, said today.

Allan W. Beattie will act as assistant at Red Deer, Gordon Ross at St. Paul and Alex Harboway at Vegreville.

All three men graduated this year from the faculty of agriculture at the University of Alberta and all three are native Albertans.

YAP, YAP!

Cavorting City Canines Cause Cries, Clamor

Controversy over drive of city police against dogs running at large hit a new peak today.

As complaints continue to pour into police headquarters, the by-law which requires a dog to be confined or restrained at all times, was condemned by the president of the Alberta Humane Society and supported by the Chief of Police.

Mrs. Allan Miles of the Humane Society told The Bulletin that it was "too bad" dogs could run about all winter long but then when spring comes the police crack down.

"Our organization fought against the by-law when it was being considered and has since tried to have it abolished," she said.

"It is true," she added, "that dogs who chase cars and dig up gardens are a menace, but they aren't in the majority. It seems to me that the wrong people are being summoned."

Housewife Mrs. Benjamin Krause, 10173 112 street, is not only against the by-law, but she has a particular complaint against "people who are always reporting dog-owners whose pets are running at large."

She said that on April 18, a man on 121 street, reported "about 20 dogs in our district."

"And he owns a dog himself," Mrs. Krause said indignantly.

Chief Constable Reginald Jennings said today that police action was necessitated by the "hundreds of telephone and mail complaints received at the police station every day."

"We have no set period for this particular campaign," the Chief added, "but summons will continue to be served as long as so many residents protest the dogs at large."

All positions in the Edmonton oil fields, except those occupied by technical experts, should be filled through the National Employment Service.

This was the request forwarded today to Deputy Labor Minister MacNamara at Ottawa by Carl Berg, vice-president of the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress.

Request follows complaints by Canadians seeking work in the oil fields that a majority of unskilled work is being done by Americans.

The Edmonton Labor official further urges the Dominion Government to stop issuing permits to unskilled American laborers coming to Alberta for work in the oil fields. The department is requested to not renew permits of Americans now here for periods of six months.

Mr. Berg attacked statements made by Fred White, Winnipeg, prairie regional superintendent of the National Employment Service.

White said there is no cause for alarm about Americans working in the oil fields and that these are chiefly technical experts who cannot be obtained in Canada.

"Mr. White was in Edmonton only one day. He could not possibly have become conversant with the situation in that time," said Mr. Berg.

Cosmos Cancel Barrel Derby

Plans for a barrel derby in Edmonton have been called off by the Cosmopolitan Club following a supreme court ruling in Winnipeg that the derby was a gamble and participants were liable to a fine.

The Cosmopolitan Club will make plans later for a substitute event to raise funds for the Boy Scouts.

Cakes of salt once were used as money in both Tibet and Abyssinia.

Elections Move Grade 9 Exam

Dominion elections being held on June 27, have made it necessary for the department of education to alter its time schedule for grade nine final examinations in Alberta.

The exams for this grade were to start on June 24, but will now commence on June 23 when students will write the social studies paper. Most other exams are being set forward a day to accommodate the election date.

City Announces Basis For Six Scholarships

Conditions under which City of Edmonton scholarships will be awarded to university students were approved yesterday by city council's finance committee.

At a recent meeting of city council it was decided to make six $300 scholarships to students of the university, but terms of the scholarships were not decided at that meeting.

Members of the finance committee will recommend that two of the scholarships be made available to students matriculating into the university, and four to students entering other years in any faculty.

One of the two scholarships awarded to matriculating students will be given to son or daughter of an Edmonton resident and three of the four other scholarships will be restricted to residents of the city.

The scholarships will be awarded on the basis of academic standing and financial need.

Oliver San To Be Readied By This Fall

A new 180 bed tuberculosis sanatarium at Oliver will be ready for use this fall, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, Alberta minister of health said today.

The new building, being constructed under the guidance of the provincial department of public works will be used exclusively for the hospitalization of those mental patients who are also victims of TB.

Estimates tabled at this year's session of the Alberta legislature set aside $380,000 for building construction at Oliver, as compared with $180,000 a year ago.

At present tubercular mental patients are provided with separate wards in existing mental institutions.

Russia May Try Deal For 2-Sphere World

By Edward V. Roberts

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(UP)—There was speculation in some diplomatic circles today that Russia at the Big Four meeting may offer the United States a "deal" formally dividing the world into two spheres of influence.

Observers, who believed such a development likely, said the Soviet Union may propose:

1. That the United States recognize a communist regime in China and adopt a "hands off" policy in continental Asia, acknowledging it as a sphere of predominant Soviet influence.

2. That in return the Soviet Union will cease her disruptive efforts in western Europe, and agree to a democratic settlement for Germany and Austria.

UNDERCOVER SCHEME

These quarters think Russia may suggest such an undercover agreement at the climax of the forthcoming Paris meeting after an intense word battle over Germany. The timing would be such, they said, as to make the bid appear to be a dramatic shift in Soviet policy and a major concession.

U. S. officials said that such a manoeuvre undoubtedly would be rejected by Secretary of State Dean Acheson. They pointed out that this country was unalterably opposed to secret deals of any kind.

President Truman said yesterday he was happy about the agreement to lift the Berlin blockade because it gives the big powers a chance to take up where they left off 10 months ago in trying to reach a peace settlement.

There were indications that top advisers were urging Acheson to seize the initiative at the Paris meeting. Otherwise, they reportedly warned, Russia will use the conference as a platform from which to make a major propaganda appeal to the German people.

SCIENTIST SAYS SALMON GET SEASICK

OTTAWA, May 6.—(BUP)—Milo Bell of New Westminster, B.C., said fish get seasick.

Bell is chief engineer of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission.

As such he is familiar with transporting live salmon in tank cars from hatcheries to rivers.

He said the tanks had to be filled to the top. Otherwise the swishing water would make the salmon seasick.

Ford Strike Will Affect Canada Works

WINDSOR, Ont., May 6.—(BUP)—Ford of Canada will be forced to lay off its 10,000 employes in Windsor, unless the strike at Ford's River Rouge plant in Michigan is settled in a few days, a company spokesman said today.

Ford of Canada obtains essential parts from the River Rouge plant.

In Detroit the CIO United Auto Workers' Union called a mass meeting today in front of the plant and geared for a prolonged walkout to halt the company's multi-billion dollar nation-wide business.

Negotiations were at a standstill in the strike, which began yesterday noon over an alleged speedup of assembly lines at the Rouge and Lincoln-Mercury plants.

On strike were more than 59,000 employes of the River Rouge plant and 3,200 employes of the Lincoln-Mercury plant. If the walkout continues, 147,200 workers in Ford plants in 33 U.S. cities and Windsor, Ont., could be thrown out of work within three weeks.

Walter Reuther, president of the UAW, said the union hoped for a short strike.

"But we're preparing for a long one," he said.

Pickets paraded peacefully at the struck plants and authorities anticipated no disturbances.

However, John Bugas, Ford industrial relations manager, appealed to the mayor of suburban Dearborn, where Rouge is located, for police to open picket lines to permit free entry and exit from the plant.

Mayor Orville Hubbard considered the request "premature." He said there had been no complaints.

CPA Accepts 1st Canadair

MONTREAL, Que., May 6.—The first of four Canadair aircraft ordered by Canadian Pacific Air-lines for its Trans-Pacific services to Australia and the Orient was delivered yesterday by the Canadair company here, far ahead of schedule.

The four-engined plane, first of a new Canadian Pacific "Empress" fleet, was called the "Empress of Vancouver" in line with the Canadian Pacific Steamship tradition.

The other planes on the Canadian Pacific Trans-Pacific routes will be named after cities which will be points of call, Sydney, Auckland, and Hong Kong.

At a turning-over ceremony at the Canadair plant attended by executives of both companies, T. J. Emmert, vice-president of Canadair, officially transferred the aircraft over to Grant McConachie, president of Canadian Pacific Air-lines, and W. G. Townley, general manager of operations.

MONTREAL, May 6. — (CP) — Dominions, provincials, municipals and corporations generally were steady in light trading on the bond market here today.

United Church Denies Pact Motion Qualified

MONTREAL, May 6.—(CP)—Montreal Presbytery of the United Church yesterday passed a resolution deploring what is termed a "garbled" report in the press about Wednesday's Toronto meeting of the church's general council executive, where a motion concerning the North Atlantic Pact was adopted.

(The Canadian Press in its report of the Toronto meeting Wednesday said that the executive had approved the Atlantic Pact generally, but that it had deleted by a vote of 13-12 a clause which would have called the church membership to "recognize . . . if the necessity arises, Canada should do her duty under provisions of the pact."

VERSIONS OF ACTION

(Versions of the matter as carried by two Toronto newspapers were.

Globe and Mail: United Church ministers and laymen attending executive meetings of the United Church General Council yesterday voted 13-12 to defeat a resolution which would give complete sanction of the church to the North Atlantic Treaty.

(Telegram: The executive of the United Church General Council by a one-vote margin today refused to call on Canadians to be prepared to "do their duty under the provisions of the North Atlantic Security Pact." By a vote of 13-12 the exhortation was eliminated from a general resolution approving the Atlantic Pact.")

NO QUALIFICATIONS

Rev. Dr. R. H. Scott, secretary of the Montreal Presbytery, said he was making this entry in the minutes of today's meeting: "Our information was that in no amendment, adopted or considered, nor in any debate on the resolution was there any attempt whatever to qualify the approval of the North Atlantic Pact, including its military clauses."

In Toronto Dr. R. J. Mutchmor of the board of evangelism and social service of the United Church of Canada today issued the text of the Atlantic Pact resolution approved Wednesday by the executive board:

The executive board resolved:

"To urge the ministers and members of the United Church:

"(1) To pray that this pact may be an instrument of peace;

"(2) To do everything possible to make this alliance primarily a means to the establishment of a peaceful and democratic world, as set forth in Articles 1, 2 and 3 of the pact, by strengthening the free institutions of the member states, by promoting stability and well-being within and among them, and by encouraging international economic collaboration, including self-help and mutual aid."

DEFEATED CLAUSE

The executive board, by a 13 to 12 margin, voted down a third clause in the prepared resolution. This clause said: "To recognize that while it is our earnest hope and prayer that the sanctions provided in Article 5 may never be invoked, yet if the necessity arises, Canada should do her duty under the provisions of the pact to maintain security of the North Atlantic area, the action deemed necessary being determined according to our democratic constitutional procedure."

McLennan Elks Lodge Adds 60 New Members

McCLENNAN, May 6 — Sixty applicants for affiliation were added the membership of McLennan Lodge No. 297, BPO Elks at a colorful ceremonay here last Tuesday. Forty visitors were in attendance representing five lodges—Peace River No. 250, High Prairie No. 279, Edmonton No. 11, Fairview No. 277 and Hines Creek No. 322.

At the special invitation of the host lodge officers of High Prairie the lodge carried out the entire ceremonies of the evening. The office of Exalted Ruler was filled by P. E. Maqueon, Dominion Grand Organizer, for the initiation ceremony.

The "Legend of the Two Elks" was given by Col. O. T. Goff of High Prairie—district deputy GER and Exalted Ruler W. E. Dickson of the host lodge sponsored the 10 o'clock service. Frank Richardson of Peace River lodge assisted at the gavel in his well known artistic manner and efficiency.

A highlight of the evening was the presence of Rev. Father Giroux —a life member of McLennan lodge—now in retirement and living at Jousard. His many old time friends of McLennan gave him a rousing welcome.

Inducted into Peace River lodge were 60 new members followed by [illegible] of the Peace River lodge.

Many visiting members were called on for brief remarks.

Jasper H and S Hears Report On Convention

JASPER, May 6 — Jasper Home and School Association met on May 2 and heard a report of the provincial convention held at Olds last month.

Mrs. W. Clevenau, delegate to this convention was complimented on the continuity and interest in interest shown in her account of the proceedings.

President W. C. Cable was the unanimous choice for another year, and it is hoped that all officers will consent to hold office for a second term, since this is the recommended procedure for Home and School Associations. Two others were elected to the executive. Tenure [illegible] to be one or two years.

Rebekah Lodge Helps Fire Victim

HANNA, May 6.—Colfax Rebekah Lodge gave a household shower for one of its members, Mrs. Thomas Beach, Monday evening, May 2. Many useful gifts were received by the guest of honor who had lost everything when the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beach was completely destroyed by fire last month.

A supper dance was held in the Robidoux Coach Washrooms for Mr. and Mrs. Beach and their young children.

A benefit dance was held last week for Mr. and Mrs. Homer Butts, who lost the Fashion Billiard building in the same fire. It is reported that $250 were taken in.

Andrew Taxes Two Mills Higher

ANDREW, May 6—Mill rate for the village of Andrew has been set at 40, for the year 1949. This is two mills higher than last year, necessitated by the higher school requisition.

The council intends to widen the sidewalks on the main street, and put the street light standards on the walks instead of the middle of the street as at present.

The Andrew locker plant has been officially opened and is in operation.

Rain is already badly needed.

Kiwanis to Open Third Playground

WETASKIWIN, May 6—Wetaskiwin Kiwanis Club this year mark their 25th anniversary. It was in September, 1924 the club first received its charter and it has been active ever since.

As a special mark for a quarter century of life and growth the club is planning on opening a new playground. It will be the third playground the Kiwanis have sponsored in this city, besides activities carried on in playgrounds outside the city, such as providing equipment.

The new playground will be on the east side of the city near a group of houses built under the National Housing act last year. Property has been obtained from the city and equipment, which includes swings, teeter-totters, a giant stride, or maypole and a slide, is already under order.

A softball diamond will also be included in the activities for the children, as the ground obtained provides ample room for this in addition to space required for the equipment.

Official opening may be held on club's birthday and it is expected the club will celebrate with a banquet to which members of kindred organizations from a number of nearby towns will be invited.

Dave Bunnin is chairman of the committee in charge of the anniversary celebration.

VIKING VOTE OKAYS BY-LAW

VIKING, May 6. — Village ratepayers went to the polls Monday and approved the expenditure of $10,000.00 by issue of debenture to purchase a new mobile fire fighting unit and new fire hall. The vote was 74 for the money by-law and 3 against. Only about one-third of the ratepayers came out to vote, showing a silent consent.

Northern Artists Display Paintings At Beaverlodge

BEAVERLODGE, May 6.—An art exhibit was held here recently in the lodge room of the Community Centre, under the auspices of the Willow Lodge Chapter of the IODE. The exhibit consisted of oil and water-color paintings by Northern Alberta artists, and were on display for three days. Many took advantage of the opportunity to view these choice selections, and a great deal of interest was shown by residents of the town and district.

Two of the paintings were those of Miss Euphemia McNaught, a local artist, of whom the community is justly proud.

Wetaskiwin Fastball Is Underway

WETASKIWIN, May 6.—In the first fastball game of the season, Wetaskiwin girls went down to inglorious defeat to the Sport Shop team, 54-0. And the girls had themselves to blame. They challenged the Sport Shop team, practically all under 16 years of age, but found out they weren't in the same class. However, not discouraged they will play the same team again Sunday afternoon on the Alexandra School grounds and hope then to redeem themselves.

The girls team includede Nancy McGuire (captain), Helen Klein, Helen Sanderson, Helen Kirstein, Clarabelle Johns, Ethel Sjerlund, Patsy Bourque, Lorraine Johns, Jean Bowen, Gackie Groves and Helen Groves.

The boys were, Rodney Fonteyne, Ron Stanley, Al Arner, Ronny Schneck, Gerald Gillespie, Jim Hawkins, Valere Fonteyne, Dick Knueffler, Roger Otteson and Don Holte. Umpire was Forbes Atkinson and scorekeeper Miss Dunlop.

A seven team fastball league has now been organized in Wetaskiwin scheduled games commence May 9. The Sport Shop team will play in the league competing with the grown-up teams.

Viking Legion Holds Rally

VIKING, May 6.—Speakers at a Legion rally here were district commander, H. A. Abbott of Sedgewick, Dr. Ramsay, medical officer of DVA, and George E. Gleave, M.M., first vice-president of the Alberta provincial command. All spoke of the importance of keeping the Legion membership up to a hundred percent. A social hour of dancing and refreshments followed the addresses.

Ryley Oddfellows Mark May Day

RYLEY, May 6. — Ryley Oddfellows celebrated May Day in their own way. Rebekah Lodge No. 56, and the I.O.O.F. No. 75, joined in a parade to the Ryley United church on Sunday. Some forty members took part.

Rev. C. W. McKay, pastor of Calvin United church conducted the special service, very suitable taking for his subject friendship, love and truth.

A pleasing incident of the affair was, when an ovation was given to Dr. James L. McPherson, ex-M.L.A. and over 40 years an Oddfellow. When the parade passed Dr. McPherson's home, the doctor being unable to join them this year on account of infirmity, the whole company waved a salute to the doctor watching from a window.

After the service the members of both lodges paraded back to the Oddfellows hall, where members and guests enjoyed a buffet luncheon and a social afternoon.

Swiss Tradition Is Conservative

Only Country Where U.S. Dollar Is At Discount

By George McCullagh
Publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail

GENEVA, May 6.—This is a striking little country and you can learn a lot from it. It is unique, historically, in many ways. Most of us in the New World have been intrigued by its amazing capacity to remain neutral during two devastating world conflicts. It is unique in contemporary history for another, perhaps, not unrelated reason. It is one of those extremly rare countries that shows no interest in acquiring the much-coveted American dollar. In fact, the American dollar is at a slight discount.

How a country chiefly composed of three racial groups—Germans, French and Italians—did not become involved in the two great wars of this century has always intrigued the outsider. Bordering as it does on Italy, Germany and France, it has literally lived with the flames of war licking its borders.

LISTENING POST

However, it was more by good fortune than by design or wise statecraft that Switzerland was not involved in either conflict. It is perhaps fair to state that the aggressor nations looked upon it as being more useful as a neutral listening post. If this had not been the case, they would certainly have found an excuse to involve this little nation in world conflicts.

On the surface, the country is prosperous. It is clean, it offers anything from caviar to potato chips—at a price, of course. All lights are on. The street cars and the trains (also electrical) run well, and on schedule. The people are quiet, secure, simple—not dull, but they seem to have the talent for being inconspicuous. They are apparently very thrifty and very practical, yet they seem to have a preference for American cars. In Rome, every good car seemed to have the plaque of "CD" (Diplomatic Corps). Here you see Packards, '49 Cadillacs, Oldsmobiles, Chryslers, Lincolns, roving about at a respectable and steady speed with no "CD's."

The Swiss have no coal, no oil, no gasoline, no metals, and not enough wheat of their own. The population is very pacific, despite the great variety of national or language traditions. Seventy per cent of the population is Protestant. The great majority of the French-speaking Swiss are also Protestant, mostly followers of Calvin. The 30 per cent of the Catholic communion is neither a belligerent, nor a mistreated minority.

SWISS ARE CONSERVATIVE

Communism? The Conservative Swiss is as conservative as he is internationally neutral. He does not want to take part in wars, although he knows how to fight. He stands solidly pat and unafraid.

The various Conservative parties (and there are many of them) are a majority in their parliament (federal council), united against any encroachment by Socialism or Communism. They have nearly 70 per cent of the votes. Thirty per cent are trade union, or Labor, and only five members of the parliament are Communists.

The Red leader is an intellectual, the grandson of the great psychiatrist of half a century ago—August Forel—the great crusader against alcoholism. By the way, the claim is constantly made by people representing various shades of political or social opinion that Switzerland suffers proportionately from the greater number of diseases due to chronic alcoholism.

A number of very nice restaurants display on the outside large signs telling that no liquor is served. These are the restaurants which August Forel organized. His grandson leads a small Communist Party without which Switzerland would not be Switzerland, for Switzerland, from time immemorial, gave asylum to all sorts of revolutionary refugees.

REFUGE FOR MANY

Lenin lived for many years in Geneva and Zurich. Mussolini lived in Zurich. He worked there as a bricklayer; he was an ardent revolutionary. There is an old bricklayer still living in Zurich who gets livid when one mentions Mussolini because he cannot forgive his having become a Fascist—he wants to remember Mussolini only as a good laborer, and aggressive socialist.

BODY OF 'WITCH' DEVOURED BY ANTS

CHIAPA DE CORZO, Mex., May 6.—(UP)—The body of Fernando Gomez, accused by his neighbors of being a male witch, was found tied to a tree yesterday by police. He had been devoured by giant ants.

Police said the unique torture may have been devised by disgruntled relatives of a patient who did not respond to Gomez's medical voodoo.

Unemployment has been a problem for many years, from the twenties till the last war. Two hundred thousand unemployed in a small country like this is an enormous figure. Unemployment has disappeared now, but the Swiss seem to sense a recession in business and are afraid that, in another year or two, they may have as many as twenty thousand unemployed. We in the New World may not appreciate the magnitude of this problem because we are accustomed to dealing in much larger figures.

Then there is the problem of a large section of the population who live in the mountains—almost half a million. They demanded new roads, inclined railways, and a number of other federal measures of help, and they are restless. They come down from the mountains into the big cities (Geneva has 180,000 to 200,000 population and Zurich, the largest in the country, 350,000 to 400,000). They see the prosperity of the country and they want their lot improved. Why don't these, under the stress of their economic needs or wishes, become Communists? The answer is that they happen to be predominantly Catholic in addition to being Swiss.

SOME BUREAUCRACY

The country did not entirely escape some of the bureaucracy which the war left in its wake everywhere. Like all other countries, it still keeps up examining the baggage of the outgoing passengers—a nuisance of the first order, particularly in Italy. But in Switzerland, which imports and has everything, such a procedure would seem especially superfluous.

You ask the customs officer who is looking into your suitcase what he is looking for, and he says, rather seriously but very gently, that you are not permitted to export personally more than five watches. Good heavens. What else? Well, says he, "You are not permitted to carry out coal!" He laughs himself, 'notices' that your suitcase is not full of hard coal and is satisfied.

On the whole, however, there is here less formality and bureaucracy than anywhere I have been in Europe. Everything is leisurely and quiet.

A new Indian diesel engine factory will go into production shortly raising India's capacity to 5,500 engines annually.

Embargo On Relay Broadcasts Lifted

LONDON, May 6.—(Reuters)—The British Musicians' Union has agreed to lift its embargo on relayed broadcasts, the British Broadcasting Corporation announced last night. The BBC is to resume relaying public symphony concerts, opera, music hall and theatre performances and dance music from outside sources.

Dutch and Indonesians Agree to Cease-Fire

By Arnold Brackman

BATAVIA, May 6.—(UP)—Dutch and Indonesian delegates reached an informal cease-fire agreement today under which the Republican Government will be returned to Jogjakarta, the capital, reliable sources said.

These sources said Indonesian delegates flew immediately to Bangka Island to get the final stamp of approval from Republican Premier Mohammed Hatta and other Indonesian leaders. They have been exiled there since fighting was renewed last December.

The two sides agreed to stop fighting, restore the Republican government at Jogjakarta and attend a full-dress peace conference at The Hague, informants said.

U.S. OF INDONESIA

The conference would discuss establishment of a "United States of Indonesia" under the Dutch crown.

United Nations officials supervised negotiations for the agreement. H. Mearle Cochran, U.S. delegate on the three-man Indonesian commission, said he hoped a date for The Hague conference would be set this week.

It was understood the Republican delegation here agreed to round table discussions which would include pro-Dutch Indonesians who wish to retain ties with the crown.

HE LIKES BEING FAR FROM HER

LOS ANGELES, May 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Eleanora Constanzia MacGachen, 30, an Italian countess who came here last December as a war bride, yesterday sued her American husband, Howard MacGachen, 34, for separate maintenance "because he won't come home from Italy."

She testified he threatened to remove $4,700 from a Los Angeles bank, thus stranding her in the United States.

10 Countries Sign Charter

LONDON, May 6.—(AP)—Representatives of 10 western countries signed yesterday the Charter for a council of Europe, which in effect sets up a joint cabinet and parliament.

The 10 states are Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Italy and Ireland.

The council is to hold its first meeting this summer in Strasbourg, France. Its functions will be limited to debate and recommendations on political, cultural and some economic matters. It is not empowered to discuss defence matters.

Conservative leader Winston Churchill, who heads a movement for a United States of Europe, may become a British delegate to the council. Herbert Morrison, deputy prime minister, told the house of commons the British delegation will include members of both Labor and the Conservative party and that the Conservative party can choose its own representatives.

Firemen estimated damage of $200,000. No one was injured.

Co-Operative Pubs

AMBLESIDE, Westmoreland, England—(CP)—Because housewives complained when their husbands came home later from their Sunday lunch-time drink, the public-house here will open and close half and hour earlier at mid-day. The husbands' late homecoming had caused domestic upheavals, wives said.

UNSCHEDULED BOUT

Man Is Second Best In Match With Bear

CARROT RIVER, Sask., May 6.—(BUP)—A Carrot River, Sask., man is in hospital here after taking on a bear in an unscheduled wrestling match.

Gerrit Cator saw a large bear, estimated at about 400 pounds, around the lumber camp. He shot it several times in the head with a shot gun.

But this only made the animal charge Cator. As they closed the man broke the shotgun in two hitting the bear.

Cator then grabbed for the animal's throat but the bear was too quick and grabbed the man's left hand in his teeth. Then they fell and Cator yanked his hand free, although badly torn. The bear hugged Cator and ripped a hole in his back.

The veteran woodsman somehow managed to shove the bear away with his right arm. Then the animal took a bite on the stock of the shot gun which gave Cator a chance to get away.

He phoned a towerman who arrived to take Cator to hospital at Carrot River.

THOMAS MANN AWARD WINNER

NEW YORK, May 6.—(AP)—Novelist Thomas Mann yesterday was named for the 1949 award of merit of the American Academy of Arts and Letters. The award, which includes a $1,000 cash prize, is given to a novelist once every five years. Mann, 74-year-old self-exiled German-born writer who won a Nobel prize in 1929, now lives in the United States.

BOMB PRANK COSTS 2 HANDS

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J., May 6.—(AP)—Anthony Iannarone, 18-year-old student at Rutgers University, lost both his hands yesterday when a makeshift bomb, composed of chemicals in a paper drinking cup, exploded. The instructor had left the room and it was alleged the bomb was concocted as a prank. Two other students were slightly hurt and the laboratory was slightly damaged.

Sun Pipestone Gets Some Oil

By Don Flach

A good showing of oil has been encountered in the wildcat well being drilled near Wetaskiwin and 18 miles south of the Leduc field by the Sun Oil Co. In a drillstem test of the interval from 5,118 to 5,137 feet, Sun Pipestone No. 1 gave a recovery of 186 feet of oil, 118 feet of oil cut mud, 470 feet of salt water and a flow of gas. Test lasted for one hour.

A second drillstem test of the D3 at Anglo-Home No. 3 made late Thursday established the presence of oil in quantities considered as good as some of the best in the Leduc field. The test of a 10-feet section was open for a total of 23 minutes during which it flowed better than 16 barrels in 15 minutes through a half-inch choke.

HIGHER GAS-OIL RATE

Gas-oil ratio, however, was higher than at Leduc, about 1,000 cubic feet per barrel as compared to 500 barrels.

Another test is to be taken today of the bottom half of the 10-feet section in an attempt to get a lower gas-oil ratio. The well is drilled to 5,317 feet which is 3,000 feet below sea-level. Home's practise at Leduc is to drill to that depth, set liner to 2,990 feet below sea-level and produce from the 10-feet interval.

The Anglo-Home No. 2 was testing the Lower Cretaceous Thursday at 4,313 feet.

Quick to follow up their D3 success, Anglo-Home has selected sites for two offsets to be drilled in the near future. One is located on lsd 5-4-51-25W4, and the other is on 7-4-51-26W4.

73.69 BARRELS PER DAY

Statement on the first month's production of Superior Joseph Lake No. 1 has just been released. During the period the well produced at an average of 73.69 barrels daily.

The average gas-oil ratio was 395.5 cubic feet of gas per barrel of oil and the average basic sediment and water content was 7.49 per cent. On the last day of the test production was 70.2 barrels gas-oil ratio 390 cubic feet per barrel and B.S. and W. 2.2 per cent.

Performance of the well is considered very satisfactory and testing will continue for at least another 30 days before an announcement is made on further drilling in the area.

ROYALITE WELLS

Royalite Redwater No. 14-15 is standing cemented and should be completed sometime tomorrow. No. 4-15 is drilling at 2,987 feet and should reach the D3 tomorrow. No. 9-15 was spudded yesterday with rig from the recently completed No. 15-15.

Wildcat Royalite-Texaco Samson No. 1 is being rigged with a new outfit recently obtained by Royalite. Peavey, wildcat 25 miles north of Edmonton, is coring at 3,373.

WELL IS ABANDONED

North Continental No. 1, wildcat well drilled a mile east of Bruderheim is being abandoned at a depth of 4,028 feet.

Golden Spike No. 2 is preparing to core at 5,000 feet and No. 3 is drilling at 4,537 feet. Both are Imperial step-out from the famed Scheepp No. 1.

Home is preparing to sink a test well in the Golden Spike area and will locate about a mile southeast of Imperial's Golden Spike No. 2.

BANKS SHOW DEPOSITS UP

OTTAWA, May 6.—(CP)—Dominion government deposits decreased $38,895,000 to $91,960,000 during the week ended May 4, the Bank of Canada reports in its weekly statement.

Chartered bank deposits increased $69,067,000 to $617,868,000, while notes in circulation rose $2,487,000 to $1,265,191,000.

Selling Pressure Weakens Stocks

Industrials Show Widest Dip; Key Western Oils Are Lower

TORONTO, May 6.—(CP)—Prices were forced lower as selling pressure increased on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrials showed the widest dip on widely scattered fractional losses and western oils fought heavier profit-taking. Golds began to weaken in mid-session and base metals held steady on mixed gains and losses. Volume was about 810,000 shares.

Steels, foods and refining oils dipped fractions in the industrials. Activity increased across the board with several issues selling at new lows. Liquors were down and papers, utilities and textiles were mixed. Several agriculture listings and banks improved.

Key western oils were lower. Anglo-Canadian, Calgary and Edmonton, Royalite, Pacific Petroleum and Okalta showed losses ranging up to 20 cents.

A few base metals tightened in dull dealings.

Activity in the golds was held to a handful of small issues that turned briskly. Senior producers weakened and early advances in junior producers were wiped out.

SLOW DECLINE HITS NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 6.—(AP)—The stock market went into a dragging decline today.

A wide variety of key issues showed losses of fractions to more than a point, with some touching new lows for 1949 during the day.

Selling pressure was never severe but buying interest was stirred only by price concessions.

Limited business developed. Turnover was at the rate of around 750,000 shares for the full session, or close to the smallest of the week.

The demand stimulated by news the Berlin blockade would be lifted appeared to have died away.

Canadian issues were lower. McIntyre dropped ¼, Dome Mines eased ⅛ and Hiram Walker fell ⅜. Canadian Pacific and Distillers Seagrams were both unchanged.

On the curb, Lake Shore was up ⅛.

SOUTH BRAZEAU IS HEAVY TRADER

CALGARY, May 6.—Western oils were in retreat on Calgary Exchange and the majority traded showed losses. Volume was 81,850. AP Con held at 23 in sales of 1,000 and South Brazeau's turnover was 15,200, all at 16.

Only 150 of Royalite were sold and these brought $7.00, just five cents off yesterday's price. British Dominion dropped two cents to 30 and Central Leduc lost six in closing at 98. Hanna Pete dipped one to 19 and Pacific Pete dropped 10 to $2.75. Okalta was one ahead at $2.45. Grease Creek sold 17,000 at 2¼ to 2¾ and Hargal 4,250 at 17½ to 17¾.

May Wheat Paces Rally

CHICAGO, May 6.—(AP)—A strong short covering movement sent May wheat up more than three cents at times on the Board of Trade today, imparting a firm tone to other cereals.

A report the government did not intend to sell any of its wheat, plus a higher government bid for wheat in store at Gulf of Mexico ports, supported the upturn in the May delivery. May recovered nearly all the ground lost in last Thursday's price break.

Last Thursday May sold as high as 2.25¼. It broke several cents that day and then reached a low of 2.16⅛ on Friday and Saturday. Its trend this week has been consistently higher.

Other grains had fair-sized gains, largely in sympathy with the spurt of the May wheat contract.

Wheat closed ⅞-3⅞ higher, corn was ¾-1⅜ higher, oats were ¼-1¼ higher, rye was ¾-1¼ higher, soybeans were 1¼-2½ higher.

Closing quotes:

Wheat—May 2.23¾-23, July 1.94⅝-½, Sept. 1.94⅜, Dec. 1.96⅝-¾.

Canada's Future Turns On People Not Conditions

TORONTO, May 6.—(CP)—It is upon people, not upon conditions, that the future of Canada turns, says the current monthly letter of the Royal Bank of Canada, dedicated to this year's graduates from schools and universities.

"Some persons are given to talking about the precarious nature of Canada's economy," the letter reads.

"They say we are too dependent upon foreign markets, too close to this nation and too far away from that; too much divided geographically by mountains and lakes, and ideologically by languages and creeds.

"These people miss the point; they are timid and misguided people looking for things to blame rather than for people to achieve things.

"Foreign trade depends upon our ability to sell in competitive markets and that in turn depends upon inventures and enterprise, which in turn are in the hands of the people. . .

"Canada's is not a static system. Compare the living standards of today with those of two generations ago, and it becomes evident that in even the humblest home today the comforts of life far exceed anything even dreamed of then.

"Who brought it about? Men and women who had less education, fewer doors to life's activities, and a smaller store of general knowledge than any graduate of 1949."

Dry Weather Reports Send Grains Higher

WINNIPEG, May 6.—(CP)—In the most active session in several weeks on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange continued dry weather across the prairies stimulated general buying in the coarse grain futures market today.

Shippers and American Houses were on the buying side in oats, with shippers and processing houses buying barley. There was occasional buying by American houses in the latter grain too, with local interests also showing activity in both oats and barley.

American houses were credited with taking rye, commission houses following suit. Offerings were fairly liberal, with trade active.

The United Kingdom was allocated 650,000 bushels of wheat under the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement. A small parcel of wheat also was reported purchased by Switzerland.

Price of class two wheat, for export to countries other than the United Kingdom, rose one cent.

London Stocks

LONDON, May 6.—(Reuters)—Trading on the London Stock Exchange in all sections today was on a small scale and produced but few features.

Great Britain's decision to send troops to Hong Kong assisted Far Eastern banking issues. Hong Kong and Shanghai were firm at 93½.

Better prices among industrials included those of irons and steels and some of the leaders in the miscellaneous group.

Profit-taking on the recent rise resulted in small losses among oils. Half-point gains in Japanese bonds were the result of speculative support. European loans were generally fractionally lower.

South African minings were slightly easier in very small trading, probably smallest for some considerable time.

Morris Motors Profits Decline

LONDON, May 6.—(AP)—Morris Motors, a leader in Britain's export drive, reported today a drop of more than $4,000,000 in 1948 profits under its previous year's net earnings.

It announced net earnings of £1,513,555 ($6,054,220) in 1948 compared with £2,622,636 in 1947.

The company blamed lower earning on a reduction in export prices of superseded models and early production handicaps connected with the introduction at the same time of three new Morris cars and two new Wolseley models.

Mortgage Loans Reach Record

OTTAWA, May 6.—(CP)—Mortgage loans by institutions reached a record $343,000,000 in Canada last year, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation reported yesterday in its annual review, "Mortgage lending in Canada."

The previous high figure for mortgage lending was $258,000,000 in 1947.

The survey estimated that the 1948 lending on real estate amounted to close to 19 per cent of the total assets of the lending institutions.

Ontario Output Of Gold Climbs

TORONTO, May 6.—(CP)—Bullion production of Ontario gold mines for the first three months of 1949 totalled $19,810,277, an increase of $2,700,258 from $17,110,019 for the first quarter of 1948, the provincial department of mines announced yesterday.

Tons of ore treated totalled 2,390,729, as against 1,969,179 in 1948 and gold recovery was 564,302 ounces, against 486,979 ounces. Silver decreased 92,723 ounces, compared with 101,840 ounces.

Internat. Pete Earnings Higher

TORONTO, May 6.—(CP)—International Petroleum Co. Ltd., had net income in 1948 of $11,810,470, compared with $11,200,796 in 1947 or 81 cents a share compared with 77 cents.

Dividends of 50 a share totalled $7,262,044.

During 1948, the consolidated net working capital suffered a reduction of $6,072,574, the annual report states.

CANADIAN DOLLAR

NEW YORK, May 6.—(CP)—The Canadian dollar was up 5/16 of a cent at a discount of 4¾ per cent in terms of United States funds in mid-day foreign exchange dealings today. The pound sterling was unchanged at 4.03¼.

Churchill Residents Await Port Opening

CHURCHILL, Man., May 6.—(CP)—Residents of this Hudson Bay port—Canada's most northerly seaport—today were awaiting the moving out of ice which now locks the harbor to a depth of more than five feet and the subsequent opening of navigation.

The $20,000 square yards of the harbor have been sounded, and only a small amount of dredging will be required. Ridges of rock across the Churchill river and between the terminal elevator and Hudson Bay are almost clear of snow.

DATE IS UNCERTAIN

But port manager W. Twolan said it is impossible to forecast when the ice will move out of the harbor. He considered a major factor the amount of snowfall and spring rain inland from here.

Normally, June 10 or 11 sees the ice moving out. The elevator, which rises amid the tundra of the coastline, has a storage capacity of 2,500,000 bushels.

The elevator staff will return on the next train, and wheat likely soon will be rolling up from the wheatlands of western Canada to await shipping.

RECORD LAST YEAR

Last year, 5,314,342 bushels of grain—a record for this port—were sent to the United Kingdom.

Mr. Twolan expressed optimism over prospects for use of the harbor this year. Men employed during the shipping season—extending from Aug. 5 to Oct. 10—by the harbor board numbers approximately 235. Stevedores needed depend upon the types of cargoes being handled. Possibly 90 will be used with grain-carrying ships in the three berths.

Retailers Elect New Executive

SASKATOON, May 6. — (CP) — S. A. Boswell of Hamilton, yesterday was re-elected president of the Retail Merchants of Canada at the 43rd annual meeting here. Earl Hodge of Falconridge, Ont., was named vice-president.

Directors elected include: British Columbia, William Charlton and William Allison, both of Vancouver; Alberta, W. D. Craig, Olds, and W. Fairbairn, Claresholm; Saskatchewan, Fred Cosford, Saskatoon, and Les McKenzie, Swift Current; Manitoba, W. Gilbert and R. M. Grasby, both of Winnipeg.

George Walker of Prince Albert, Sask., was named director of the food division.

MAN BATTLES BEAR WITH GUN AND HANDS

CARROT RIVER, Sask., May 6.—A 52-year-old lumber camp patrolman yesterday described from his hospital bed his fight for life with a 400-pound female black bear enraged by shotgun wounds.

Gerrit (Happy) Cater said the bear came Wednesday night to The Pas camp near this end-of-steel centre in northwest Saskatchewan.

"I got my shotgun and shot her several times in the head. It only made her angry. She charged me; I got in two more quick shots but she was on me before I could get away a third.

"When the bear raised up on her hind feet, I hit her with my gun. The gun broke in two. The bear got me down and we both fought. I grabbed for her throat but my hand landed in her mouth."

The bear hugged Cater hard, its claws digging a big hole in his back. He succeeded in getting his hand out of its mouth and shoved it with his other hand.

Cater managed to reach the stock of his shotgun and swung at the bear with it. When she swept it aside, he used the precious second to make his getaway.

Navy Announces Coast Appointment

OTTAWA, May 6.—(CP)—Cmdr. Reginald A. Webber of Ottawa and Victoria has been appointed to HMCS Stadacona as dockyard commander and King's Harbor Master, naval headquarters announced today.

Cmdr. Webber, 37, was formerly chief of staff to the flag officer, Pacific Coast, and training commander of the naval barracks at Esquimalt, B.C.

ST. LAURENT JOINS TORIES

OTTAWA, May 6.—(BUP)—Progressive Conservative headquarters resounded with chuckles today.

In the morning mail was a filled-out application for membership in the party.

It was signed by L. S. St. Laurent.

P.S.—That's the Prime Minister's name.

School Children Start Canada Tour

ST. JOHN'S, May 6.—(CP)—Two Winnipeg school children, on a get-acquainted tour of Canada, arrived here by plane last night.

Herbert, 16, and Donna Bannatyne, 14, faced a whirl of activity today, including visits to Lieutenant-Governor Albert J. Walsh, Mayor Andrew Carnell and United States Army personnel at nearby Fort Pepperell.

Fewer Britons Come To Canada in 1948

OTTAWA, May 6:—(CP)—Canada is getting fewer immigrants from the British Isles and more from eastern Europe, the Resources Department reported today.

But the Dominion still gets more immigrants from the United Kingdom than from any place else, the department said in a statistical breakdown of immigration during the last fiscal year.

Britain sent Canada 40,015 new residents during the 12 months ending March 31, a drop of nearly 11 per cent from the previous year.

During the year, Canada got an over-all total of 128,603 immigrants, an increase of 58.6 per cent over the 79,194 immigrants in 1947-48.

Immigration from France, Germany, the Low Countries and Scandinavia was 18,450, compared with 7,340 the year before. From the United States it was 7,306, a drop of 19.1 per cent.

People from iron-curtain countries, many of them political refugees, swelled the total. There were 3,420 Poles, compared with 4,269; 1,457 Russians, compared with 389; 1,144 Czechs, compared with 385; 10,406 Ruthenians, compared with 3,366.

Almost all the immigrants were farmers, unskilled and semi-skilled workers, miners and domestics. But nearly 25,000 skilled workers were included.
